KU KLUX INSTIGATORS OF RACE RIOTS AT DETROIT

Mayor Smith Makes Charge Against The Hooded Band. Detroit Police Are Honeycombed With Klansmen

Dr. Sweet And Associates Still In Jail For Defending His Home Against Klan Hoodlums. N. A. A. C. P. On The Job

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—Special dispatch to the National office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, from its Assistant Secretary, Walter White, on the scene of the recent race riot in Detroit, states that Dr. O. H. Sweet and ten other Negroes, who defended Dr. Sweet's home from the attack of a mob on Wednesday; September 9 have been held for trial charged with first degree murder.

Mr. White's telegram to the National office of the N. A. A. C. P. reads:

"All eleven defendants held without bail for trial on charge of first degree murder. Judge Faust to hear any argument counsel may choose to present for bail in individual cases Tuesday."

Defense of the imprisoned colored people, Dr. Sweet and his wife and two brothers, and seven others, has been taken over by the Detroit Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which raised $700 at a mass meeting, to which is added $400 raised by colored doctors and which will be augmented by additional sums as they are given. The National Office of the N. A. A. C. P. will contribute financially to the defense.

The N. A. A. C. P. Assistant Secretary has been in conference with Judge Ira W. Jayne, of the Wayne County Circuit Court, who is a member of the N. A. A. C. P. Board of Directors; with the N. A. A. C. P. Branch in Detroit and with local white and colored lawyers as well as with the Chairman of the International Committee, appointed by Mayor John W. Smith of Detroit.

In connection wtih the disorders, Mr. White reports the following facts:

1. Mayor Smith charges the disorders more due directly to instigation by the Ku Klux Klan.

2. The Detroit police, said to be honeycombed with Klansmen, are charged, with illegally shooting at least 55 citizens of Detroit between January 1 and September 1, 1925.

3. Dr. O. H. Sweet, 31 years old graduate of Wilberforce and Howard Universities, and well-known practising physician, bought a house last Spring at 2905 Garfield Ave. in a middle-class white neighborhood, with several colored residents in nearby streets.

4. Detroit's colored population having increased in late years from 8,000 to 65,000 colored people have been overflowing the original colored neighborhoods. On July 22, the house of a colored physician, Dr. A. L. Turner, was invaded by a mob, which loaded his furniture on vans and returned it to his old home.

5. Dr. Sweet moved into his house on Tuesday, September 8, having returned a few weeks ago from Vienna, where he had been studying. Dr. Sweet reports there was jeering because he had police protection that day. The following day, a crowd congregated until there were by Dr. Sweet's estimate, 1200 people. Stone throwing began at 7 p. m. Windows being broken and threats being shouted. The crowd increased to 2,000.

Mr. Davis went out with Dr. O. C. Sweet, dentist and brother to Dr. Dr. O. H. Sweet. They were stoned and the yard and porch were covered with bricks and stones. At 8:50 shots were fired, killing one member of the mob and wounding anohter.

Judge Jayne has been a constant adviser of the N. A. A. C. P. and has been extremely kind and helpful.

Mayor Smith has appointed an Inter-racial Commission consisting of 8 representatives of both races, among whom are: W. Hayes Mckinney, head of the Legal Committee of the Detroit Branch of the N. A. A. C. P., and M. L. Walker, Vice-president of the N. A. A. C. P.

A full accounting by a certified public accountant, is to be had and published by the N. A. A. C. P., of all sums received and expended in the course of the defense of the colored people tried for defending themselves from the mob.

"THE WAY OF THE WORLD"

Dr. Gilbert H. Jones, President Wilberforce University, will be the speaker at the opening Sunday meeting, October 4, 4 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. He will speak from the subject, "The Way of the World." His post-graduate work was taken at one of the leading universities of Germany. He is president of the oldest institution for the higher training of Negroes in America.

DRIVE TO REACH $7,000,000 MARK FOR SCHOOL FUND

$500,000 Must Be Raised Before Close Of The Year To Get $2,000,000 Offered By Eastman

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.— A drive to raise $500,000 before the close of the year for the endowment fund campaign of Hampton and Tuskegee institutes was opened Sunday by the executive committee at 5 Maiden Lane. Clarence H. Kelsey is chairman. The sum being sought represents a strategic requirement in the plan to aid Negro educational, industrial and agricultural development.

For one thing, it will mark the conclusion of the $5,000,000 campaign, and will automatically bring to the fund the conditional $2,000,000 gift of George Eastman, of Rochester. As the committee of leading financiers and civic workers now views it, the success of the final step will mean $7,000,000 for the substantial developments being planned.

William Jay Schieffelin, a member of the executive committee and Chief Justice Taft, a supporter of the project, have emphasized some of the things that will be done with the $500,000 now to be raised. Of this sum $100,000 will go for a girls' dormitory at Hampton Institute, $50,000 for an engineering building to house the Tuskegee Trade School and $36,000 in three annual installments of $12,000 each to endow permanently a male instructorship.

It is desired also to have $24,000 in three installments of $8,000 each to endow an assistant instructor's salary and $18,000 to endow an instructorship for one course given to women. In addition, $2,500 is sought to found a permanent scholarship for a Negro boy.

In connection with its campaign, the committee has published a leaflet of eighteen distinguished men who have aided the work of Negro education most liberally. The list includes the Presidents since Grant; Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Julius Rosenwald, George Eastman, Paul Warburg, Secretary Hoover, Dr. Charles W. Eliot, Elihu Root, Clark Howell, editor of "The Atlanta Constitution," and Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia.

JUDGE H. A. ROSSKOPF RULES AGAINST NEGROES

Judge H. A. Rosskopf issued a temporary injunction denying the Negroes the right to occupy property in what is called "white neighborhoods," Wednesday of this week.

The suit was brought by one Frederick Schroeder, 4546 Cote Brilliante against Dr. Geo. W. Holt, his wife, Lillian and C. R. Kittrell. Dr. Holt brought the property but according to the plaintiff in the case, the property was restricted by an agreement of property owners, which prohibited the sale or use of the said property by Negroes.

According to Judge Rosskopf's decision, Kittrell, who now occupies the property will have to move within 60 days.

The case will be argued on its merits before Judge Falkenheimer in the near future.

DIES [illegible] SAVE CHILD TRAPPED IN ELEVATOR

Colored Janitor Drops To Death After Clinging To Bottom Of Cage The Girl Had Started

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—George Hall, a colored janitor, was instantly killed Sunday; when he fell down an elevator shaft while attempting to rescue a nine-year-old white in the apartment house where he worked at 522 West 183rd street. Hall dropped four stories, his skull being fractured in the fall, causing almost instant death.

Girl Starts Car

Hall, while repairing the elevator in the fatal shaft, left the car standing at the first floor level. He was lying on the floor in the elevator pit working, when one of a group of small children who were playing in the lobby discovered the open car and entered it. She was Marie Magnus, who lived with her parents in apartment 42. The curious child's hand fell upon the car controlled she had so often watched the elevator man operate when she rode up or down with her parents. She pressed the lever down and to her glee the car started upward.

Hall, seeing the car start and hearing the child's voice, suddenly realized the danger. With but one thought to save the child he sprang up and grabbed a bar under the ascending car. As the car went up he clung to it shouting a warning to the child.

Misses Floor

At the fourth floor he noticed the door of the elevator was open as was the door leading to the elevator shaft. He swung himself in position, evidently to jump to the fourth floor as soon as there was sufficient space between the elevator floor and the entrance to the shaft, and then to jump into the car and stop it.

Hall made the leap for the fourth floor, but he missed, and fell to the bottom of the shaft. An ambulance was rushed to the scene of the accident, but the colored man was dead when the ambulance surgeon reached him.

The car stopped automatically at fifth floor and the little girl stepped out unhurt, unaware that the janitor had given his life in an attempt to save her.

Chi. Negro Rabbis Contend They Are Only Real Jews

Preston News Service

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 23—According to a report circulated here last week some Othodox Jews chanced to attend the services held in the Temple of the Gospel of the Kingdom at 1850 West Lake Street here and were amazed to hear the Negro Rabbis declare to the congregation, of several hundred, that they alone were the real Jews.

A few weeks ago this congregation came into public attention when Mrs. Elizabeth Miller was brought to trial accused of solciting funds under falsé pretences. It is said that at that time Rabbi David Lazuras and Rabbi Canio Stifom appeared in court in defense of the woman and their cause. It is reported that so convincing was the argument of the rabbis that the girl was released and she and her friends continued their work among the people of Chicago.

It is said that services are held in the Temple at night only. During the day the rabbis are out soliciting funds for the maintenance of the temple and securing new members.

According to Doorkeeper Dun, Rabbis Lazarus and Stifom came to Chicago a short time ago directly from Jerusalem where they learned the doctrine they are teaching.

It is reported in New York City there is a congregation of several thousand members. The work in Chicago began four months ago and approximately four hundred persons have been converted.

It is said that at night the temple is filled with men on one side and women on the other. After the singing of several hymns, the two rabbis who are said to be very eloquent and able speakers deliver sermons laying down the truth to their hearers, and stressing the point that Negroes are the original Jews.

It is also reported that a large number of gentile whites endeavor to attend the meetings out of curiosity. Some have even blacked their faces in order to attend the services.

CATHOLIC CON. CONDEMN RACE INTOLERANCE

Adopts Resolution On Race Relations, And Sympathy For Colored People Who Are Subjected To So Many Injustices. And Denied Constitutional Rights.

During the session of the Sixty-ninth General Convention of the Catholic Central Verein of America, recently held at Cleveland, O. resolutions were adopted calling for stronger race resolutions and expressing sympathy for the colored people who are subjected to so many injustices and denied their constitutional righth.

Under the caption, "Race Relations," the resolution read:

Race Relations

"The spirit of the Constitution of our country makes for that true tolerance among our citizens which Christian justice and charity enjoin on all men. Human pride augmented by other passions, leads to a disregard of the rights of others and the obligations of brotherly love. Differences of race, color, language, wealth and social standing are stressed, leading to mutual dislike, distrust, social unrest and even enmity and hideous crimes.

"Since the citizenry of our country is made up of men of various races and nations, it especially behooves us to guard against the temptation of fostering racial strife while we should do what lies in our power to promote peace and good-will among all men, always ready to actively assist in the solution of our racial problems. Mindful of the fact that one of the first and foremot saints of the New World, St. Peter Claver, devoted his life to the Negroes and that even ahead of such glorious martyrs as Isaac Jogues, an American Negro was beatified by the Church the Blessed Martin de Porres, let us in a special manner devote our attention to relieving the condition of the members of the Negro race, subjected to so many injustices, not merely denied rights guaranteed them by the constitution, but made to suffer slights and indignities which deeply offend them. They too are our neighbors, both under the law of Christ and that of our country. We therefore wish to impress on our members the obligation to labor for amicable race relations and to grant their assistance to all efforts to bring them about."

RIOT IN PHILADELPHIA BEING RIGIDLY PROBED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 23.— A rigid investigation of the race conflict in this city last week, in which ten Negoes and several police were hurt, is being conducted by the police.

The outbreak occurred near Third and Wharton streets, a distict that has been the subject of segregation controversies since the arrival of a good number of colored families. Joseph Sallard of 706 S. Eleventh St., who was rescued from the midst of the mobbists by Patrolman Stephen Selanack, has been released from the Mt. Sinai hospital. The patrolman is still suffring from a cut on his head received when struck by a milk bottle hurled by a white. Joseph Jackson, of 1313 South 3rd street, another colored man who was rescued by the police after a severe beating is recovering. The house from which shots were fired by a colored man to disperse the mob has been under constant guard since the disturbance.

MOB FOILED BY SHERIFF

ASHVILLE, N. C., Sept. 23 — While a lynching was being perpetrated in Mississippi Sunday night, one was barely averted in this state

A crowd of five hundred persons who stormed the Buncombe county jail in search of a Negro arrested on an assault charge was only frustrated, because the prisoner had been smuggled to another city by Sheriff Mitchell just 30 minutes before the mob formed.

K. K. K. THREAT DOES NOT FRIGHTEN EVANGELIST

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 23.— A colored evangelist, the Rev. James E. Shepard, who is known as the black Billy Sunday, had his tent meetings somewhat interrupted here last week by the receipt of a menancing letter from the klan.

The letter warned the evangelist to bar white persons from attending his meetings, and threatned the punishment of both by night riders. Nevertheless, black Billy Sunday has continued his holy meetings as he thinks it so fits his Master.

INSANE YOUTH IS CLUBBED TO DEATH BY MOB

Chained To Tree And Pick Handles Used To Beat His Life Out. Authorities Fail To Arrest Slayers

Associated Negro Press

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Sept. 23.— While Willie Dixon, inmate of the state sanitarium for insane persons located here, grinned idiotically at his white captors and quried in the same fashion, "What you-all doing?" he was chained to a tree and beaten to death, near here Sunday night.

Last Friday, Willie, in one of his customary spells of violence, had struck and fatally wounded a white nurse at the sanitarium. Knowing that he was insane and therefore not responsible to law or society for his actions, the authorities sent him back to the colony farm Sunday.

Sunday night, following the evening services at the various churches, in which the doctrine of "Vengeance is Mine Saith the Lord," is expounded and the commandment "Thou Shalt Not Kill" is taught, a band of noble Georgians imbued with the spirit of chivalry that permeates the Southland went to the state sanitarium and of course "over-powered" the guards, seized the insane Negro and carried him a short distance, where he was chained to a tree and beaten to death with pick handles.

The resounding whacks of the pick handles as they descended upon and crushed the victim's skull and the eerie, distressing cries of the insane man, rent the air, but strange to say, failed to arouse the people in the neighborhood, nor did they attract the attention of the minions of the law, and little surprise was manifested when the lifeless and mutilated body of the Negro was found Monday morning.

"Georgia Justice" had been meted out to another Negro and as usual no arrests have been made, in spite of the assumption that the guards at the institution, who are sworn to protect the inmates, but who were "overpowered," must have notified the city and county officers immediately of the removal of the inmate

The body was left at the tree, where it was found. The pick handle was found nearby.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the Negro met death at the hands of parties unknown.

No arrests have been made and officers said they had failed to obtain any evidence of the identity of the men who carried the Negro from the colony farm to the place where he was killed.

PEOPLES FINANCE CORP. TO HAVE "NEW HOME DAY"

Sunday, Sept. 27, from 2 to 5 p. m., has been designated by the directors of the Peoples Finance Corporation as "New Home Day," at which time stockholders and the public generally will have an opportunity to visit and inspect the new builing now in course of construction, from the basement to the fifth floor.

In making this arrangement with the builders before the completion of the building, the directors thought that mere passing and momentary steps did not afford adequate opportunity to see just what was really being done on the corner at Market and Jefferson. Therefore, New Home Day was suggested. It will be one afternoon when all may see and inspect, unrestrained, every part of the building.

The Chauffeurs Club band will furnish music for the passing crowd. There will be no speaking, no formal program, no delays. Go when you are ready and stay as long as you please.

The directors will act as ushers and will be painstaking in showing you through. The band will furnish music from the fifth floor auditorium.

A picture of the visitors will be made.

RIDICULE PITTSBURGH'S NEGLECT TO PROTECT COLORED RESIDENTS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 23.—The action of the police here in arresting and abusing a highly respected colored family, because the mother of the house fired a shot into the ground to frigthen away white vandals, who attacked her home during her husband's absence, has brught severe criticism on the Pittsburgh police department

The act was considered a direct violation of duty. "A person has a lawful right to protect his person and property from harm, and it was evident that the whites intended to harm both. Nevertheless the police allowed those bent on evil doing to escape and arrested and abused ones who were making a brave stand for their rights," said a statement condemning the arrests.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Carter, the parents of two small childen, and a sister of Mrs. Carter, Miss Clara Thomas victims of the offense are making a brave fight to keep their cozy little home on Duquesne Heights. White segregationalists who burned a fiery cross on the doorsteps of the Carters' home, damaged the house and caused the family's arrest are being met by cool and courageous spirits.

EYE WITNESS STORY OF BURNING OF NEGRO AT STAKE IN MISSISSIPPI

"Oh God! Oh God! I Didn't Do It, Have Mercy!" Cried Victim As Flames Snuffed Out His Life

GIRL DID NOT IDENTIFY. GOVERNOR SCORES MOB.

Believed To Have Confessed Crime To Save Three Other Negroes Held By 1000 Fiendish Whites.

NEW ALBANY, Miss., Sept. 23.—"I watched a negro burned at the stake at Rocky Ford, Miss., Sunday afternoon. I watched an angry mob chain him to an iron stake. I watched them pile wood around his helpless body. I watched them pour gasoline on this wood. And I watched three men set this wood on fire." So wrote J. L. Roulhac, a correspondent for the "Memphis Scimitar," in giving an account of the lynching of L. Q. Ivey, a colored lumberjack near here last Sunday afternoon.

Victim Prayed

"I stood in a crowd of 600 people as the flames gradually crept nearer and nearer to the helpless negro. I watched the blaze climb higher and higher, without mercy. I heard his cry of agony as the flames reached him and set his clothing on fire."

"O. God; Oh, God!" he shouted. "I didn't do it. Have mercy!" The blaze leaped higher. The negro struggled. He kicked the chain loose from his ankles but it held his waist and neck against the iron post that was becoming red with the intense heat.

"Have mercy, I didn't do it," he shouted again.

"You should have thought of this before," someone shouted from the crowd. There was an instant of silence. Then several voices rose in agreement. Nowhere was there a sign of mercy among the members of the mob, nor did they seem to regret the horrible thing they had done. The negro had supposedly sinned against their race, and he died a death of torture.

"Soon he became quiet. There was no doubt that he was dead. The flames jumped and leaped above his head. An odor of burning flesh reached my nostrils. I felt suddenly sickened. Through the leaping blaze I could see the negro sagging and supported by the chains.

Woman Spectator

"The setting was a little sawmill. The crowd stood on a huge pile of sawdust and the negro's death pyre was in a small gulley beside it. They calmly watched the flames leap and dance. There was no talking now, everything was silent.

"When the first odor of baking flesh reached the mob there was a slight stir. Several men moved nervously.

"Let's finish it up," someone said.

"Instantly about 12 men stepped from the crowd. They piled wood on the fire that was already blazing high. The negro was dead, but more wood was piled on the flames. They jumped higher and higher. Nothing could be seen now for the blaze encircled everything.

"Then the crowd walked away. In the vanguard of the mob I noticed a woman. She seemed to be rather young, yet it is hard to tell about women of her type; strong and healthy, apparently a woman of the country. She walked with a firm even stride. She was beautiful in a way.

Soon Forgot Crime

"The crowd walked slowly away. 'I'm hungry,' someone complained, 'Let's get something to eat.' 'I'm hungry, too,' said another.

"'We'll have to go to New Albany,' someone said. 'We've bought out all the food in the Rocky Ford stores.'

'We might go to Myrtle,' said another.

"The crowd loaded into automobiles. The negro, who was still chained to the white hot stake with the red-blue flames leaping about him, was forgotten. The crowd was hungry and was going in search of food.

Girl Failed to Identify

"A white girl, was criminally assaulted in a pea field Friday morning by an unknown negro. He escaped in the woods. The county sheriff organized a posse and captured L. Q. Ivy, who denied having anything to do with the attack.

"He was taken to Tupelo for safekeeping. Rocky Ford citizens went into court and obtained a writ forcing the sheriff to return the negro to

BAD CONDITIONS FOLLOW EXODUS IN S. E. MISSOURI

Pemiscot County Forced To Import Hundreds Of Mexicans To Save Thousands Of Dollars In Cotton.

NEGROES LEFT AFTER DYNAMITING OF HOMES

Other Projects Are Held Up Special Meetings Called To Work Out Solution To The Problem

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Sept. 23.—Several months ago reports came from Pemiscot County of the dynamiting of Negroes' homes and many other mistreatments that were being heaped upon them. Today that same district in southeast Missouri is pleading for Negroes to come to its aid.

Need Colored Citizens

A particular crisis has arisen among the farmers of Pemiscot County. They have suddenly discovered that they have a bumper cotton crop, but that those hands that planted and tended such fruitful plants have left abruptly before their skillful aid could complete the task.

The abuse of the colored people led them to leave Pemiscot County in large numbers to seek better environments. As a result, an acute shortage of help has accrued, and there is a danger of a loss of many thousands of dollars in raw cotton.

To Import Mexicans

Even though unheard of prices have been offered for cotton pickers in Pemiscot County, few colored persons have responded. The situation has grown so serious that a mass meeting of farmers was called at the court house in this city, Saturday. As a last resort it was decided to import 500 Mexican cotton pickers from Texas. Each farmer will take a number of these pickers and pay their transportation.

Other Projects Hindered

Not only has the cotton crop here suffered due to the absence of colored workers, but other projects have also felt the need. The building of the concrete road in the county has practically been discontinued, and a government reveting project about five miles north of Caruthersville has been greatly impeded. The shortage of help has forced the price of cotton picking up to $2.25 a hundred pounds of seed cotton, which many of the planters consider a prohibitive price. Nevertheless, Mexico seems the closest market for help for Pemiscot County.

FILES FOR DIVORCE

It was learned this week that Mrs. Zelle Cole Evans, former Asst. Supervisor of Music in the public schools, has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Prof. Clifford Evans, teacher of Manual Training at Sumner High. Mrs. Evans, in her petition, stated that she was married on Dec. 25, 1906, and separated Sept. 9, 1925. She charges that her husband was cold and indifferent, quarrelsome, and often said he did not love her. She also said he was high tempered, hard to please, and called her names. She asked for the custody of her 15-year old son, Clifford, Jr. No mention is made of alimony in the petition. A divorce will perhaps be granted early in October as no contest is expected.

Mrs. Evans is staying at the residence of her father, 4210 W. Belle, while Prof. Evans has taken up his abode with Maurice Grant, 4019 Cook avenue.

IN MEMORIAM

DR. DAVID W. SCOTT

In loving memory of our dear husband and uncle the late Dr. David W. Scott, who entered into eternal rest, September 21, 1923.
We know that you have a home of love, of joy, of peace and plenty, where friends and dear relations mingle into everlasting bliss; and yet, because of our great love, days of sadness oft come o'er us, and tears of sorrow often flow.
Sorrowfully missed by George A. Scott, widow; Frederick Q. McDonald, Sr. and Jr., nephews. —Adv.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear wife, Mrs. Hattie Mayes, who passed away three years ago, Sept. 26, 1922.
Darling wife, how we miss you.
How have left us all in sorrow;
And no one can take your place.
Though suffering, she breathed not a murmur,
For the Comforter stood by her side
And whispered, "Fear not, I am with thee,
With me shalt thou ever abide."
On the river the boatman hastened,
She heard the soft dip of his oar,
Then came the end and its sorrows
He bore her,
Across to the beautiful shore.
And we are very lonely.
We miss you day by day;
Keep a watch for us, dear wife,
Come us gently on our way.
Sadly missed by husband, daughter, sister, relatives and friend.
Elmo P. Mayes, Myrtle Jones and Victoria Lawson. —Adv.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of my friend, Evans A. Lyon, who departed this life Sept. 27, 1924.

Is the one who loved him best,
Sadly missed by Bessie Bibbs. Adv.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear husband and father, William Moody, who died one year ago, Sept. 25, 1924.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a vacant place,
This world can never fill.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same
Gone but not forgotten,
Sadly missed by wife, children and granddaughters and all who loved him. Adv.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear one, Clara Gunnell, who departed this life Sept. 26, 1919.
Just a years ago we placed thee
In the dark and silent tomb;
But the fragrance of thy memory,
Lives to brighten all the gloom.
We are waiting with the promise
From above;
There to meet thee and to greet thee
In that realm of endless joy.
Sadly missed by Alice McDonald, daughter; Robert Gunnell, husband; Julia Hyde, sister. —Adv.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of my daughter, Margaret Grant, who departed this life September 30, 1924.
In the graveyard safely sleeping
Where the flowers gently wave,
Like the one I loved so dearly,
She has gone but not forgotten
Too that far off distant place
God did not permit her to stay;
She has won a place in heaven,
So dear, dear Margaret was taken away.
So sadly missed by her mother.

"HER HONOR, THE MAYOR"

To Be Repeated At Scruggs Memorial Church By Request, On Tuesday, Sept. 29

Owing to the wonderful success of the drama "Her Honor The Mayor" in three acts at Scruggs' Memorial Church, corner Cook and Spring avenues, will be repeated by request, September 29th at 8:00 o'clock.

"Her Honor The Mayor" is intended to be a good-natured satire on the women's rights question neither for nor against the movement, but written to provide two hours of fun for all after the day's work is done.

Eve Greenway was engaged to Lester Parmenter, who was a candidate for mayor of the town.

Lester was denouncing the suffragists in a speech. Three of them called on Eve. Eve joins the cause of woman's rights and tells Lester he must choose between her and his party. Lester decided in favor of the women. McGoon, his manager, hires Eliza Goober to drug him. By a mistake Eve herself drinks the drug and falls asleep. The rest of the play is Eve's dream. In Act 2, she dreams women are making laws and men are doing the house work. Don't miss this wonderful play. Come early and secure good seats. Admission 25c. —Adv.

N. A. A. C. P. NOTES

The St Louis branch met in Berea Presbyterian Church, Thursday evening, September 17. The meeting was devoted principally to talks on association attendance. Several plans were suggested whereby the branch may use in getting out the membership to the meetings. The plans as suggested were taken under advisement and from the attitude as evinced from the membership present, the branch may look forward to some spirited meetings in the future.

At the meeting to be held in October a proposal to adopt the constitution as sent out from the National body for the branches to be governed, will be voted for approval. Every member is urged to be present and listen to the reading so as to vote.

Pleas are coming from all around us for assistance in many cases. The membership is urged to bring in as many new members as possible and come out to the meetings so that concerted front may be taken in the varied cases now under our advisement.

Have you seen the Crisis? The little bronze lazzie on the cover and the little prize winner in the paper shows to St. Louis that we are "To the Front." Be sure to get this October's issue.

Dr. T. A. Curtis, Chairman
James H. Tanter, Sec'y.

NOTICE

To whom it may concern:

This is to rectify a statement advertised in last week's issue of The St. Louis Argus in regards to the delegates for Beauty Culturist League, Local 29. It was stated that Mme. K. C. Eastman was a delegate to the Annual National Convention of Beauty Culturists League that was held in Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 8-9-10. The delegates who were elected and attended this convention were Mme. M. M. Bransford, 2912 Pine, and Mme. J. D. Dukes of 3014 Pine. Regardless to what was said, what is said or what might be said, the national body corrected all errors that were made in Local 29 by giving justice to whom justice was due.

Mme Bransford stated they had a wonderful session in Atlantic City. She was made National Chaplain, also Deputy Organizer over the State of Kentucky. Mme. Bransford reached Atlantic City in time to save the National from ruin, as Local 29 was six months in arrears and Mme Elizabeth Gamble, who was presiding as president in Mrs. Shreeves Johnson's place of Chicago, Ill., was non-financial. Mme Bransford paid this $31.75 for six months dues for Local 29 to save her local, also the national body as no member nor officer can preside or hold any station in any organization or club of any kind who is non-financial.

The national body and the well-thinking members of Local 29 felt proud to think and know what Mme. Bransford did to rescue the group from danger.

Local 29 received the loving cup for having the largest number of members, and also raising the largest amount of money of all locals. —Adv.

HORSE SENSE

If you wark for a man, in Heaven's name work for him. If he pays you wages that supply you your bread and butter, work for him, speak well of him, stand by him, and stand by the institution he represents. I think if I worked for a man, I would work for him. I would not work for him a part of the time. I would give him undivided service or none. If put to the pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness.

If you must wilfully condemn and eternally disparage, why, resign your positeion, and when you are outside damn to your heart's content. But I pray for you, so long as you are part of an institution do not condemn it. Not that you will injure the institution—not that—but when you disparage the concern of which you are a part, you disparage yourself.

And don't forget:

"I forgot" won't do in business.

The Associated Negro Press

The registrar has announced that already all available rooms for young women have been taken and applications from young men are being received in increasing numbers daily.

Athletic Program Attracts

The sudden revival of the interest of young men in attending Fisk University is attributed largely to the new and enlarged athletic program that has been adopted by the administration. This program embodies the designation of H. W. Johnson, better known in athletic circles as "Tubby" as athletic director. Tubby's ability as a player and coach has been tested and Fiskites and prospective Fiskites beleive thoroughly in him.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

Four acts of vaudeville, three of which were substituted for bookings that failed to arrive, are giving good satisfaction at the Booker Washington Theatre this week.

Philip Giles, the tall comedian, opens the show with a popular melody and then puts over a humorous monologue in his characteristic style. He closes with the "Ring Tail Blues," and does some eccentric buck dancing that serves for a good finish.

The Andrew Tribble Duo introduces the well known female impersonator at his best as a black face wench character. His female partner is good looking and an entertaining performer. They have a comical conversation on domestic troubles and Tribble shows how to abbreviate newspaper articles. They do some singing and dancing, closing with the "Charleston," which goes over big.

Edmonia Henderson has an unusual sweet, smooth and clear voice for a blues singer and the patrons are enjoying her songs this week. Among her numbers are "Hateful Blues" and "Whose Going To Do Your Loving When Your Good Man's Gone Away." She ranks about the best of the blues singers heard here.

Savage and Stephens male team, with one doing a female impersonation, enter in a hurry, just ahead of a wreck and have plenty of comedy talk on the cause. They have a grotesque dance and a buck with acrobatic stunts followed by screaming comedy. Their closing stunt is a jazz with piano and drums which takes the house by storm.

NEXT WEEK'S VAUDEVILLE

Next week's vaudeville program at the Booker Washington bids fair to prove one of the best booked at this theatre in a long time. The four acts will consist of Williams and Brown, Columbia Record stars; Ella Goodloe and Company; Hugh Turner, the musical tramp; Bruce and Skinner, the classy singing team, which failed to arrive this week. Monday will be "Pay Day" as usual, when all who enter the theatre will be presented with an envelope containing a valuable coupon, eagle stamps, or money. The "Charleston" contest for juveniles will be staged on Tuesday, and the adults will compete on Friday. The final winners will be awarded valuable prizes.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

THE COMET.

"The Iron Horse" will be the Comet Theatre's big attraction this Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The fact that this theatre devotes three days to the feature is proof of its greatness. It is the story of the wires and rails which first linked the west with the east. Deeds of daring and hair-breadth escapes innumerable, trails, sufferings and hardships of the early pioneers during the building of the railway, provides the basis for the thrilling situations in this massive drama, which deals with the construction and completion of the first transcontinental railroad. George O'Brien, one of the youngest delineators of outdoor characters, enacts the role of "Davy" Brandon, Madge Bellamy, adjudged by many as the most beautiful girl on the screen, plays "Miriam Marsh." Will Walling, one of the screen's best character actors, plays the role of "Marsh," the railway's construction engineer; Gladys Brockwell and Cyril Chadwick's comedy-heavy roles under the direction of Fred Kohler, who supplies the Irish-liany.

Pola Negri in "Shadow of Paris" and Richard Holt in "Ten Days" will be co-featured on Tuesday. "A Beggar on Horseback," "Tricked" and "Play Ball" will be the Wednesday specials.

"The Street of Forgotten Men," will be presented on Thursday and Friday. From a professional beggar, strapping on his fake arm in the back room of a Bowery cripple factory, to a gentleman of fashion, an outstanding figure in the famous Easter Parade on Fifth Avenue, this is the amazing range covered by Percy Marmont in the unusual story of dual personality. As usual in such cases, a woman is the reason, and the remarkable thing about it is that she doesn't know it. Mary Brian is the girl, and Neil Hamilton completes the trio of players featured in the leading roles of the production.

THE STAR

"Lorraine of the Lions," will be the feature of the Star Theatre this Saturday and Sunday. Norman Kerry and Patsy Ruth Miller are the stars. It is an exciting story of a girl, whose only companions during her childhood are animals. When she grows up and is rescued she is taken to civilization an untamed daughter of the jungle. Her experiences in society are amusing and are cleverly saved from being overdrawn by the judicious choice of incidents. A huge gorilla which she takes back with her puts terrific thrills into the picture when he gets loose and runs amuck at a fashionable social gathering.

Richard Talmadge will be seen in "The Isle of Hope," an adventure in the South Seas, on Monday. Leo Maloney will be featured in "The Shield of Silence," on Tuesday. Another special will be "The Shooting of Dan McGrew." Bob Custer in "The Bloodhound," a story of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, will be the Wednesday special.

The big attraction for Thursday and Friday will be Leatrice Joy in "Hell's Highroad." The story is of a girl with the idea that money — lots of money — is absolutely essential to the success of marriage. Through her influence, a powerful financier is induced to back her lover and make him a rich man. This is easy, they are married and all is lovely. But love flies out the window of this young bride's boudoir, in search of more gold. Where love flew, and how it came back, makes up the body and principal highlights of this very interesting scene narrative.

THE OLYMPIA

"The Iron Horse," a Wm. Fox special, will be presented at The Olympia Theatre on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The production is highly interesting and extremely impressive picturization of the building of the first transcontinental railroad, with an attendant romance involving George O'Brien, who is romantic and a good fighter, and Madge Bellamy, who is lovely. It tells the story of the union of the railroads completing the link which bound the east and west in 1869. Scenes show the Union Pacific and Central Pacific engines meeting at Promontory Point, Utah, and others depict the life of the rail builders on the prairies. There are Indian attacks, a stampede of bulls, gorgeous photography, many fights and a great deal o delightful humor as well as a pleasing romance, well told.

Another big feature for Tuesday and Wednesday will be "Don Q, Son of Zorro," starring Douglas Fairbanks, assisted by Lottie Pickford, Jack Mc-Donald and Mary Astor. The story is a colorful adventure-romance. Don Q is sent by his father from California to Spain to complete his education, and becomes, through a combination of circumstances, a national hero. Then, by virtue of another combination of circumstances, he is accused of a crime he did not commit, and he is aided by his father. But not before an exciting series of events transpire to thrill even the most blase audience.

"Night Life of New York" will be the Thursday special; and "Old Home Week," the attaction for next Thursday.

THE CASINO

Bill Cody in "Love on the Rio Grande," a western drama that contains thrilling stunts of death defying daredevilry, will be the Casino Theatre attraction on Saturday.

Maurice "Lefty" Flynn will be featured in "High and Handsome" on Sunday and Monday. As Officer Hanrahan, a modest, courageous, gentle patrolman who will sacrifice even his great love for pretty Marie LeDoux if he thinks it is for her happiness, Mr. Flynn has painted a character who literally lives and breathes on the screen. Two soul-stirring fight scenes, crammed with concentrated drama every foot of the way, are some of the outstanding features of the production. Plenty of comedy and a corking supporting cast go far toward making this picture a triumph.

Bill Sullivan in his first big prize fight feature picture, "The Fear Fighter," will be the Tuesday special. Tom Tyler, a new cowboy star, will be introduced in "Let's Go Gallagher," on Wednesday. Capt. Nungesser, the noted air ace, will be starred in "The Sky Raider," on Thursday. The special next Friday will be "Lost, a Wife."

THE LINCOLN

Laura La Plante will be seen in "The Teaser," at the Lincoln Theatre this Saturday. It is a lifting comedy romance laid about a pretty girl's penchant for flirting, a love affair with a cigar salesman and the opposition of an aristocratic family—and the struggles of the nicotine purveyor to learn etiquette and place himself on the plane of the social butterfly.

"The Fool" will be the Sunday attraction. It is based on a vital theme which probes into the heart of humanity and reveals hypocrics of the day. Among the characters are a man who tried to live like Christ; a girl who loved him, but loved the good things of this world too much; a rich man's son who thought him a fool and a young wife whose adventur ended on the scarlet side of Broadway. Edmund Lowe, Jack Thurman and Paul Panzer are in the cast.

Other features for the week will be: "Old Home Week" on Monday; "The Roughneck" on Wednesday; "The Goose Woman" on Thursday; "The White Outlaw" and "The Kiss Barrier" next Friday.

THE JESTAMERE

Lionel Barrymore will be seen in "Meddling Women" at the Jestamere Theatre this Saturday. It is a strong drama with an eminent supporting cast.

The attraction for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will be "The White Desert." Many of the hardships that are depicted in this picture, which is reported to be one o the most gripping screen dramas of the year, were actually experienced by the director and his company. At the top of the Continental Divide in Colorado where the picture was filmed the company faced death in the blizzards of March. The story has for a theme the struggles of a railroad company to pierce the Rocky Mountains with a tunnel. An avalanche is started as the result of heavy blasts in the tunnel and the camp and many of the men are swept away in the great flow of ice and snow that sweeps down the mountain. The struggle of the survivors to communicate with civilization is said to make one of the most dramatic and fascinating stories on the screen. Claire Windsor and Pat Malley are in the leading roles.

Dorothy Devore and Herbert Rawlinson will be seen in "The Tom Boy" on Wednesday.

"The Man Without a Conscience" will be shown on Thursday and Friday. It is the story of a man grown out of in ambitions that overrode all obstacles. He laughed at the heartaches of others, defied Fate and garnered wealth and position, until a heartless conscience and truth found him out. Willard Louis has the title role. The cast boasts of Irene Rich, June Marlowe, John Patrick, Helen Dunbar, William Orlamond and others.

THE CRITERION

Jack Dempsey and his wife, Estelle Taylor, will be seen in "Manhattan Madness," at the Criterion Theatre this Saturday. It concerns the adventures of a young Westerner who comes to New York but finds it dull until he catches sight of a beautiful girl who apparently is in distress. In order to aid her he has to battle a score of very desperate villians when he is lured into a mysterious mansion with a profusion of sliding walls, trap doors and hidden menace. Another feature on Saturday will be Thunder, the dog actor, in "Black Lightning."

"Friendly Enemies" will be the special on Sunday. Webber and Fields, the famous stage comedians, are the stars in this comedy of two Germane Americans, bosom friends, who are continually fighting over the war.

Mary Philbin will be seen in "The Gaiety Girl" on Tuesday. The story relates the romance of a young girl, forced on the stage by poverty, tricked by lies into an abnormal marriage, and saved by a climax so astounding and daring that it leaves the spectator gasping in amazement.

"Havoc" is a drama of war-dazed women, with George O'Brien and Madge Bellamy leading the cast, will be the Thursday feature.

THE VENUS

Richard Dix will be featured at the Venus Theatre this Saturday in "The Shock Punch." It is the story of a man who had "lightning in his fists" and a fast action-comedy. There will also be four acts of good vaudeville.

Norma Shearer will be presented in "A Slave of Fashion," on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The story is that of a very beautiful and unsophisticated girl who has lived in a middle western village all of her life, but has longed to go to the city primarily to be able to see and wear clothes. She gets her wish but always at the cost of her good name and the wrecking of her home. However, the family honor and happiness are saved; and the girl wins a confirmed wealthy bachelor to boot. Lew Cody plays the leading male role, as a romantic bachelor hero.

Bebe Daniels in "The Manicure Girl" will be the Wednesday special. It is the tale of a Broadway jazz baby and her boy friends.

"Night Life of New York" will be the feature on Thursday and Friday. It is the story of a small town sport who showed the Big Town how to be wild: a comedy-romance of night clubs, gun fights, taxi races, flirting girls, heart throbs and love.

THE RETINA

Hegler's "Merry Makers" will be the attraction at the Retina Skydome on Saturday. On Sunday Seymour and his "Sunflower Girls" will be the stage attraction.

The picture feature in the theatre on Sunday will be Jack Hoxie in "The White Outlaw."

"The Lost World" will be shown next Thursday. It tells the story of a party of English scientists, newspaper men and a girl who venture into the wilds of South America and discover a lost section of the world, where life has remained unchanged in pristine wildness throughout 100,000 centuries. Finally capturing one of the monsters—a brontosaurus bigger than ten elephants—the party returns with it to London to prove their discovery. One of the most thrilling scenes ever filmed is that in which the monster, escaping from its captors, clamors through the heart of the English metropolis, wrecking buildings and terrifying thousands of pedestrians.

THE ROOSEVELT

D. W. Griffith's "America" will be shown at the Roosevelt Theatre this Saturday. Hoot Gibson in "Let Er Buck," and Scarecrow's "Radio Players" will be the Sunday attractions.

Mae Murray will be presented in "Fashion Row," on Monday and Tuesday. As a Broadway actress who marries into an old aristocratic family, Miss Murray has fascinating roles to wear endless stunning gowns and delight Murray fans with the Murray dances, while the role of a plain little Russian peasant girl who comes to America to find her sister is a striking contrast. There is also a Russian out of the actress's past, who seeks revenge for a scarred face and soul she left him, and exciting events transpire that will thrill every spectator.

Agnes Ayres will be seen in "World's Goods" on Wednesday," and the stage attraction will be amateur vaudeville contests. Tom Mix in "The Gold en Thought" and "The Last Man on Edrth" will be the Thursday specials.

EYE WITNESS STORY OF BURNING OF NEGRO AT STAKE IN MISSISSIPPI

New Albany for identification. In a few minutes the girl was asked to identify the negro Sunday morning. She was not sure, but thought he looked like the one who had attacked her.

"Then the officers started to take him out of town. Crowds filled the streets. The officers started out the Myrtle road. The mob jumped in their cars and followed. At a bridge an attempt was made to block the the road, but it failed. The officer's car sped on. Just outside the city limits of Myrtle the officers found two cars across the road. They were forced to stop. The mob surrounded them. Several pistols were drawn but no shots were fired. The caravan of cars started toward Rocky Ford.

Saved Pals

"At Rocky Ford they took the negro to a deserted barn, where he refused to confess. He refused. He was beaten, suspended from a rafter by the neck and mutilated with fire and knives, but still he maintained his innocence.

"Satisfied of his guilt, the mob took him to the sawmill. While men were driving the iron post in the ground to which they were to chain the negro, he was taken to the top of the sawdust pile.

"The negro stood on top of the pile with his head bent and prayed. One who was asked if he wished to confess, He admitted to the crowd that he was guilty and under questioning told the details of the crime.

"When he was chained to the stake and the fire lighted. He screamed twice, denying his guilt, and then he was silent.

"The mob talked of burning three other negroes whom Ivy had implicated in his confession before the blaze was lighted. But Ivy's horrible death apparently satisfied it, and no other lynchings were attempted."

Ivy is believed to have confessed, after much torture, when he saw there was no way out of death, in order to save the other Negroes who were held like himself in connection with the crime. In his said confession he is alleged to have taken the entire blame for the crime.

Governor Scores Mob

Gov. Whitfield on Monday issued a signed statement denouncing the lynching. The statement read in part:

"Officers charged with the responsibility of protecting criminals will resort to extreme measures in thwarting a mob. Had the governor received notice of the crime he would have given ample support to the sheriff in the prevention of so horrible a crime against the law.

"This crime against the law is shocking to every sense of reason, for law and Christianity. It is true the offense is a most atrocious one calculated to arouse public indignation to the limit. Yet the records of the past show conclusively that the penalty of the law is always meted out to such criminals."

Quiet prevailed throughout Union County Monday, with normal conditions restored in the wake of the lynching. No further disorder was anticipated.

A coroner's jury which investigate the lynching of Ivy, returned a ve dict that he came to his death at th hands of a mob, the members o which were not known. The charre remains were buried Monday.

Judge Thomas B. Pegram of th third judicial district, announced a Oxford, where he is holding a con term, that the lynching would be mad the subject of a rigid grand jury i vestigation, either in the regular ter of Union County Circuit Court or at special session. He had not decide whether a special court term woul be called. The next regular sessio will convene in January.

JUNIOR IDEAS

Edited By LORETTA E. OWENS

EDITOR'S NOTES.

The Fate Of the Disobedient Son
Chapter 4

It was in a ballroom on Broadway in New York that John met the catastrophe of his "brightlight" enjoyments. He was seated at the table with some young ladies when a lively selection of young ladies and a few men entered as hosts and hostesses.

He was informed by the waiter that the evening was to be spent in John Heathwood's honor, and that the program would consist of music, dancing, song, drinking and toasts. The guests which had just entered were Misses Dansante, Good Time, Lightfingers, Mr. Jazz and Mr. Gin.

Each of the guests introduced himself, giving an introduction which corresponded with his name. Miss Dansante introduced many dances unknown to other guests; Miss Good Times assured all an enjoyable evening with her entertainment; Miss Lightfingers retorted that her fingers moved lightly over everything she touched; while Mr. Jazz was the jazz producer of the occasion, and last was Mr. Gin, who was perpetually intoxicated. Mr. Gin, of course, concluded with a rebuking, stinging "Ha, ha."

At John's command the waiter brought in five bottles of wine and five bottles of campagne. The campagne was preferably for Miss Lightfingers, who had requested it instead of wine.

In the midst of the enjoyment, eating, drinking and toasts a shot was fired among the guests. Everyone became excited and a majority of them fled from the ballroom through the windows. The waiter excitedly entered and begged everyone to leave because a man had been killed and two ladies wounded, and the police were raiding Broadway. "Please hurry, and save yourselves from disgrace," he said.

Everyone hurried from the room except John and Miss Lightfingers. John was too intoxicated to help himself, and in a pretense to be helping him she moved slowly across the floor.

Halfway to the door John became uncontrollable and refused to go a step farther. Miss Lightfingers dropped him in a chair and said she was going because the police were coming. Before leaving, however, she relieved him of two hundred thirty-five dollars.

The waiter, coming back into the ballroom found John there alone and put him into a closet in the back room to hide him from the police. During the search he was overlooked, and upon becoming sober (somewhat) he left the ballroom.

Read the conclusion next week. (Chapter 5)

—SISTER SUSAN.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

What Shall the Harvest Be?

We who have passed through grammar school remember our years and the happy times they have held—some mischievous pranks (maybe), good friendships made, the sympathetic leadership of our teachers. It is also good to know that our memories are happy ones.

If we overcome hard tasks that are set before us and the wholesome background of our "good times," it becomes a natural part of ourselves. Then we may have a dependable equipment for the future into which we start so early. It is to our teacher we owe this development.

In school we have gone to our teacher with receptive minds, fallow fields ready for sowing. In them she has planted the seeds of knowledge and that understanding which is so much more than knowledge alone. As she spreads out before us the fundamentals of education, we not only absorbed facts, but have put ourselves more and more in accord with the wide world.

If we should strive to attain character it would include the qualities of industry, honesty, courage and unselfishness. It was Benjamin Franklin who said, "Sloth makes all things difficult, but industry all easy." By his faithful adherence to that idea, he arose from a poor and friendless stranger in old Philadelphia to a chief pillow in the councils of his country, from a simple workman to a statesman whose memory still commands the respect of this world. Industry cannot make Franklins of all of us, but it can set us far on the road to successful careers.

The first step toward greatness is to be honest according to the proverb "Honesty is the best policy." Not honest because it is in a motto, but because it is our desire to be so. The most illuminating stories of Abrahan Lincoln as a boy deals with his high sense of honesty.

Courage should be the attribute of every American. It was the dominating virtue of the pioneers. Courage won the American Revolution. It was a part of the character of every man who achieved fame or fortune. This does not mean physical courage alone, but the courage that is represented in sustained efforts as well. It is courage that makes man truthful, that makes man just, that makes him free from his duties in face of obstacles. If men and women do not have this virtue, they cannot succeed in any branch of life.

Unselfishness is a necessary requirement for the man or woman who wishes to be of value to his or her community. We must sacrifice ourselves if we hope to achieve anything. We cannot gain without giving. The pioneers in America gave their lives to conquer the wilderness, but they gained for us the most valuable country in the world.

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence were risking their lives and not for themselves but for the good of the future generations. The soldiers who died at Valley Forge, Gettysburg, or in France were not seeking material reward. They knew the success of this nation depended on their sacrifice.

If we are to do our share of service in this world, we must be prepared to make sacrifices, to be unselfish. If we strive earnestly to develop the four virtues—industry, honesty, courage and unselfishness—those who have helped us will feel that their work has not been in vain, and that the harvest is worthy.

THE DEAD

By Thos. Atkins

The dead are gone, the dead are gone.
But here a while their bodies lie;
Without a sigh, without a groan,
Ere long to fear nor ever more to die.

Just as the life from yonder sapless tree,
To leave it bare, desolate and all alone,
With spirit flown and from their bodies free,
To try the air and find another zone.

WOULD-BE HIGHWAYMAN WOUNDS VICTIM FOR A "HIP POCKET MOVE"

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 16—O. C. Stevenson, Negro, of 2504 Lamar street, is in the St. Joseph's Infirmary with a bullet wound in his left leg as the result of an altercation with a would-be robber early Sunday morning.

Stevenson told ambulance attendants that as he passed St. Charles street and McKinney avenue, a man "with a large hat" stepped out and pointed a gun at him, with the command to "stick 'em up." Instead of sticking 'em up, Stevenson said he reached for his back pocket, trying to scare the highwayman. The latter then fired, the bullet striking Stevenson in the left leg.

$75,000 ADDITIONS PUT WILEY IN FIRST RANKS

MARSHALL, Texas, Sept. 16—The addition of six new teachers to the faculty of Wiley University is only one of the many signs of progress to be noted at Wiley University, the leading church school of the South. The new Dean of women and the head of the music department have especially significant qualifications.

Completion of the new $75,000 girls' dormitory, and the additions to the laboratories and library facilities place Wiley in the first ranks.

V. E. Daniels, Dean of the college took his master's degree from the University of Colorado last summer. He has made a thorough revision of the curricula.

More than three hundred students were enrolled in the summer session at Wiley. There were five candidates for degrees.

JUDGE TERMS KISSING A CRIME

Associated Negro Press

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 15—When one of Raleigh's alert police officers discovered Graham Humphries, white, seated in an automobile, amorously kissing Miss Rosella Fralin, also white, he arrested the couple and had them carried to the city jail. They were given a hearing before Judge W. C. Harris, who although there is no statute forbidding public kissing, held that the couple had committed a misdemeanor, no matter if the girl was willing, and fined the young man ten dollars.

Honesty seems to bar a man from getting an office where he can use it.

AT PORO COLLEGE

Ohio Delegation Arrives at Poro Devotional Services On Train

Thirty-two Poro Representatives from Cincinnati and Cleveland, under the leadership of Mrs. Vivian Potee, a Poro Demonstrator, arrived at Poro College Monday morning to spend ten days reviewing the work of the Poro System. Every Poro Representative has the privilege of coming to the College once a year and staying, free of charge, for ten days in order that she may become more proficient in her work and at the same time learn more about the institution of which she is apart.

Services On Train

Traveling in special Pullman, the Poro Representatives carried out the idea of morning worship which prevails in the parent organization by holding services on the way. Their fervent singing moved the conductor to come in and ask permission to speak words of commendation, telling the group a precedent worthy of emulation had been set.

Arrive at Poro

Machines from the Poro Automotive Department brought the ladies to the College where they were welcomed by Mrs. Annie M. Malone and cordially greeted by members of the Poro staff who had arranged for their comfort.

On the following morning the delegation was introduced to the Poro Family by Mrs. Potee and given a hearty ovation. A feeling of reverence, mingled with joy, permeated the very being of all present as the ladies expressed their gratitude for having been able thru the Poro System to make the trip to their "home."

A special program in connection with a graduating exercise was given in the auditorium Friday noon and later in the evening, after business meeting, the Ohio Delegation was introduced to the Poro Representatives of St. Louis.

LACK OF KNOWLEDGE OF CONSTITUTION A MENACE

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—Joseph T. Cashman, and opponent of radicalism in America, addressed the Exchange Club of New York at a luncheon in the Hotel McAlpin, Saturday. He spoke on the Constitution and its importance to American citizens.

"It is a sharp commentary on the intelligence of the people of the United States that they know so little about their Government," he said, "for few of the people of this country understand the Constitution and what it has done for them since its adoption 138 years ago; today. Even the leaders in Government do not understand it.

"The principal thought connected with the Constitution is the safeguarding of human rights, the freedom of the individual and the establishment of a Government which may be changed, when the necessity arises, by legal means only.

"In the first seventy-five years after the adopting of the Constitution, the people had a fair knowledge and understanding of it. It is a noteworthy fact that in this period the people let well enough alone. With the exception of the Bill of Rights, contained in the first eleven amendments, and the changes in the method of electing the President and Vice-president, the Constitution remained as it had been adopted. After the Civil War, The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments were adopted. And since that time, as the racial complexion of our population has changed, there has been a constantly decreasing understanding of the Constitution."

After citing figures on the percentage of citizens who vote Mr. Cashman said they showed clearly "the lack of interest our people have in their Government," and that "we are rapidly drifting into a very dangerous condition, for the Government is absolutely dependent on the people for its efficiency."

STAY EXECUTION TO REVIEW COURT RECORDS

Associated Negro Press

COOKEVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 16.—A petition for habeas corpus has been granted Charles Barr, who was condemned to die for murder September 3, and the execution deferred until the proceedings in the state court might be reviewed. Barr's lawyers claimed that the client had been convicted upon the strength of a confession which had been obtained in violation of his constitutional rights, explaining that Barr had been questioned for several days and nights without rest, beaten with a rubber hose and that the bloody collar of the slain man was placed around his neck.

St. Louis Stars Surprise Wiseacers of Baseball and Gain Advantage In Championship Series

NEXT GAMES AT CHICAGO

Use Of White Umpires Here Brings Protest At Start Of Series. Doubleheaders May Be Necessary To Get Out Of Way Of World Series

The St. Louis Stars defeated the Kansas City Monarchs in two of the first three hard contests for the National Negro League championship and in doing so, upset the dope of most of the wiseacres of baseball. Many writers and critics were loath to concede the St. Louis boys more than a single victory in the series.

Manager Taylor's youngsters came near making it three straight. If Barnes had not had an off day in throwing, and Bobo had not been caught napping off first in Saturday's game there might have been another tale to tell. As it was, the Monarchs were victors Saturday 8 to 6. Good pitching by Davis on Sunday, backed by brilliant defensive and a smashing offensive by his team mates enabled the St. Louis club to win 6 to 3. Rain prevented the third game until Wednesday when Brown held the champions to five hits and won a 3 to 2 thriller.

Disappointment Mars Opening

The fans were wrapt in the thrill of championship preliminaries on Saturday and with subdued excitement were waiting the call of "play ball" when two white umpires walked out on the field to dampen their ardor and marr an otherwise perfect day. It had been their overwhelming hope that colored umpires would officiate, and the change to white was disappointing. The officials, Costello and Moore brought from Chicago, were greeted with hisses, boos and catcalls, but the start of the game put a check on their ire and nothing further unpleasant happened. The umpiring was almost faultless and there was no cause for complaint on decisions.

Doubleheaders Likely

The Stars and Monarchs left for Chicago Friday where they are scheduled to play on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The date for the opening of the World Series, Thursday, October 1, bids fair to conflict with the finishing of the league series and it may be necessary for the present contestants to play one or more doubleheaders to get out of the way.

After the three games in Chicago the commission will decide where to play the remaining games. Either Kansas City or Chicago will probably be selected.

Account Of The Games

Stars Lose First Game

The Monarchs were victors in the first game 8 to 6. The champions started off in the first inning with two runs. Allen got a his over second base and scored when Moore drove the ball to the right field corner for three bases. Moore went over the plate while Watts was throwing Joseph out at first. The Monarchs scored again in the third and fourth. Allen getting a home run via the car-barn in the third; and Mothel, who had walked, scoring in the fourth when Wells muffed Hawkins' grounder.

The Stars brightened up in their half of the fourth and got three runs. Wells and Bobo singled, but Bobo was caught napping off first. Barnes' long drive got away from McNair and it went for a triple, scoring Wells. Creacy got his base on balls and Russell sent in two more runs with a double to right.

The Stars tied the scort in the sixth when Wells sent one on top of the barn for the circuit. The Monarchs came back in the seventh and took the lead when Johnston's double drove in Duncan; but the Stars tied it up in their half when Redus tripled and went home on Watts' grounder.

The eighth inning saw the Monarchs take the lead that won for them the game. Two runs were made on Allen's single and Moore's car barn circuit. The Stars would not quit, however, and made a run on Bell's single and good base running, which enabled him to score on Bobo's hit over second.

The clubs went into the ninth inning 7 to 6 in favor of the monarchs Duncan, first up, got a home run, also via the barn, for the Monarchs. Russell, Redus and Murray went out in succession in the St. Louis half and the game ended 8 to 6.

Watts' fielding was a feature of the game. He scooped a line drive off Johnston's bat that brought the crowd to it feet. Russell also made a leaping catch of Moore's fly in right field.

Stars Triumph Sunday

The Stars took the second game from the Monarchs, Sunday, 6 to 3, and evened the series. Davis pitched a killing ball, allowing only one hit from the first to the sixth inning. Only five hits were made off his delivery in the entire game before he retired, to stop a rally, in the ninth The Kansas City pitchers were not so effective. Dean was found for seven hits, netting four runs, until Mendez relieved him in the fifth who retired the side after walking Russell and being hit by Redus. Drake took the mound in the sixth and held the Stars safe after Bobo singled to right and drove in Bell. Kansas City rallied in the eighth when Drake put the ball on the car barn for a circuit; and, in the ninth when Hawkins' two bagger tallied Mothel.

The game was one of the hardest played on the local grounds and the fielders were constantly pulling the sensational. Jim Bell was the bright star and his fielding robbed the champions of several extra base hits. Bobo had a perfect day, getting a double and two singles out of three times up. Rogan, batting for Mendez in the sixth, drew a pass and was lucky enough to break the line of goose eggs his club was gathering, when Moore singled through second.

Stars Make It Two Straight

In a game replete with pitching skill, St. Louis won the odd game Wednesday by a three to two count. This game had been delayed two days on account of rain. Brown, for the Stars, and W. Bell, for the Monarchs, engaged in a pitchers' battle, the former allowing five hits and the latter four hits.

Kansas City was the first to score, getting a run in the first inning on a base on balls to Johnston, a sacrifice, and errors by Watts and Bobo.

St. Louis tied the score in their half of the fourth, when Creacy connected, for the Stars' first hit of the game, with a home run to the barn top.

The Stars added a second run in their half of the fifth, on a single by Redus, a wild pitch, and J. Bell's double against the car barn.

Kansas City knotted the count, at two all, in their half of the seventh. Sweatt led off by being hit by a pitched ball. A single by Duncan, a pass to W. Bell, filled the bases. Johnston flied out to J. Bell in short center, who made a perfect throw to Murray, killing Sweatt at the plate trying to score after the catch. Allen, however, came through with a single to right, which scored Duncan.

The Stars scored their winning run in the eighth when J. Bell led off with a single; advanced to second on Well's sacrifice and scored when Moore mussed up Bobo's grounder and threw past first.

BASEBALL FANS RESENT USE OF WHITE UMPIRES AT ST. L. STARS PARK

By DR. JAS. E. WHITE

Last Saturday afternoon I was one fan among about three thousand others who went to see the Stars play the Monarchs of Kansas City, at the Stars' base ball park this city. Accompanying me were two attorneys, a druggist, a Y. M. C. A. staff member. We were eager to see the contest which was expected to be keen for the championship of the National Negro League was at stake between the two teams. Our anticipation was great and hope high as we rushed to the gate to buy tickets, to be on time for the game before the umpire called "play ball." Not even the unexpected increase in the admission price could dampen our enthusiasm. Even the momentary disappointment at the small crowd for the occasion was soon lost in the fact that it enabled us to secure good seats for the game. As we sat there and watched our boys in clean uniforms we were thrilled to see them in action, full of energy and full of confidence, and ready to go. With all the crowd full of pride and hope and speaking in words of confidence for the home team, enthusiasm seemed to be contagious and to run riot. It was evident that they were out to see and to help the home team win. Then suddenly there fell on the crowd an ominous hush, there was a gasp as if for breath one could sense that something had happened or was wrong. Then all eyes were turned toward the "dug-out" from where two white men were emerging in uniform of umpires. Then as if by a signal, simultaneously there was hissing, catcalls hooting and other noises from the crowd voicing their disapproval and disgust at what they realized, for these two white men were to umpire the game, a game between two Negro clubs, in a Negro Park and where ninety-nine out of every hundred persons, who had paid to see the game were colored.

The writer was thrilled as he never was before to see a crowd so aroused and indignant over, what they felt was a deep insult to their manhood and race pride. The atmosphere was chraged and tense with feeling of injured humiliation and they voiced it by yelling: "take them out, we want our own colored umpires, they are plenty good enough for us," etc. Any one with an ounce of pride and manhood could not help but admire the honorable stand these fans took.

When one stops to think what it is all about, it does make him reflect seriously on the situation. Here in St. Louis, Mo., of 100,000 Negroes, where race pride and loyalty is being preached and taught by our business men and leaders from the pulpits and just when our group is beginning to appreciate what it means to come together and stand up for things that are uplifting and upbuilding. To think that this foundation and this progress that took so long to make would be shaken and undermined and by some of our own business men and those we would call our representative citizens by not only permitting but offering this insult to every decent and loyal Race loving individual of our group here, by bringing out white umpires to officiate, is rather disconcerting to say the least.

Why was it done? Perhaps the defense—indeed, if those in authority feel that the public in general and the fans in particular, are entitled to an explanation—will be that the colored umpires are not efficient. That is the same cry and excuse we have heard before and branded as a lie and unworthy of passing consideration, not only by every thinking Negro, but even by the owners of the base ball team in question by saying that we must help one another by giving them a chance. The Negro in the Grocery and Drygoods business could not compete with others, if we did not patronize them: the Negro Lawyer, Physician, Dentist and others could not get experience and become more skilled if we did not give them an opportunity by employing their services; our Negro business men and institutions would not grow and develop and succeed unless we helped them by our contributions and cooperation. Then how and why is the same not true with our umpires? We must help them and develop them ourselves. I have my first time to see or hear of a colored umpire officiating at a league game where both teams were white. No matter how efficient he may be, certainly they are not going to let him do so to teach him the game. Then how in the......high heaven is he to learn? Our duty is plain. As the best white umpiers have jobs and are busy at them, let us train our own instead.

Perhaps another defense for this insult heaped upon us will be that Mr. Andrew Foster, better known as "Rube", is to blame as president of the National Negro League. Well, from past experience, and with Mr. Foster's physique, his back seems built for carrying heavy loads but it would be manifestly too cowardly a thing to hide behind or unload on him this instance for it would be like adding insult to injury to admit that one man in Chicago or any place can and does control and dictate the policies of 100,000 Negroes in St. Louis, regulating their sentiments and customs.

It is rather like the Southern white man in France during the World War, trying to tell the French people how to treat the Negro. The French resented the interference as much as the insult the Southerners offered in trying to change their policies and attitude toward us. No individual, regardless of the position he may happen to be holding, can be bigger than, and ignore the policies of a community of people with whom he is dealing; he must yield to the sentiment and customs of those people—that is if he is sensible and hopes to be successful in his efforts.

Now there may be many reasons why this thing happened also various excuses and perhaps some of which may seem justifiable, but after the experience of last Saturday at the ball park, there should be no sane reason to doubt or any excuse to offer why the same thing should ever happen again and the like insult repeated. If there is any one among the owners of the Stars base ball team who has not enough vision to use it and enough common sense to realize—even if from a selfish point of view—that it would be just plain good business not to repeat that offense, then the loyal fans in particular and our group in general ought and I believe will not stand for continued repetition of those humiliatings and will show it by their failure to support the team and enrich the owners, by staying away from the games whenever they are to be officiated by white umpires to the exclusion of our own, unless there is a good and sufficient reason for same.

We are with the Stars and their owners and hoping they will win the pennant race and the world's championship too, but if winning the pennant means that some of the world's series games will be played here and with white umpires officiating, we would rather see them lose the pennant race while they are away and we retain our self respect at home.

At heart a loyal fan but foremost a Race man.

FOOTBALL

SUMNER HIGH SCHOOL

The Sumner High School football team is reported coming along in fine shape. Coach Beckett is very much encouraged over the new candidates. Forty-three men answered the first call.

The old letter men, who returned are: McCray, H. Green, M. Green, Baker, Gordon, Wilson, Rankin, Rhodes, Parker, Quinton. With so many veterans back, and an abundant supply of rookies, it is expected that Sumner will have a great team this year. Much is anticipated from Blackshear and Homer, two new tackles. Graham, Parker, Callendar and Pruitt are others that look good.

The first scrimmage will be held in a few days. The 1925 schedule is the heaviest that Sumner has undertaken in years.

The schedule includes: Lincoln University, Lincoln High School, East St. Louis, Douglas High School, Evansville, Ill.; St. Charles High School, St. Charles, and Lincoln High School, Kansas City.

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY

By Leland Smith

Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo. With the first football game to be played October 2 L. U. football practice was begun Tuesday September 22 with A. E. Morris as head coach. Early in September Coach Morris issued a call for football candidates. Tuesday, September 22. Sixty-three candidates including fourteen letter men responded on the field. Sixty-three candidates is the largest number in the history of the school. Prospects for good teams are very promising. Much time of the first week will be devoted to grass drill, blocking, tackling and handling the ball.

This is Coach Morris' first year at Lincoln but he has with him that Michigan U system which means a great year at Lincoln University for football.

Coach Morris has had frequent conference with Captain Robinson concerning plans of the coming season.

Lincoln University is proud of having Coach Morris as head of the squad of '25. Being the only Negro in his class to take football coaching under Fielding Yost, one of the world's foremost mentors.

Followers of the team will be interested to know that the following "vets" among other letter men are back to hold the slogan of L. U. Capt. Robinson, Brooks, Mason, Gantt, Woods, Brown, Aith, Smith, Kelly and Mills.

There will be "pep" on the old campus from now until the Lincoln Tigers have put Western University under the yoke Thanksgiving Day next in Kansas City.

WILBERFORCE

By Wilberforce Press Service

Wilberforce, Ohio—Football prospects at Wilberforce for the coming season look very bright and promising. Wilberforce is confident that its own will be held against all opponents. Such teams are on its schedule as Howard, Lincoln, Morris Brown of Atlanta, Ga., Simmons and West Virginia.

Four players have been lost to the team. The position of end, held by Scottie Brown, captain of last year, can readily be filled by King Callen, former Atlanta University end, or Country Lewis of basketball fame.

With the line intact to the exception of left guard which may be a little weak, the back field comes up for question. With the shifting of Wu Fang to the backfield, Wilberforce can boast of a better and a more powerful backfield of any colored school in the country with no exceptions to a lot of white schools.

TUSKEGEE

Tuskegee Inst., Alabama —Two weeks of daily grind on Wahsington field has worked wonders in the Crimson team. Promising new material has shown up on the grid-iron and several old men have joined the squad. The coaching staff has been completed by the addition of George W. Goodwin one of Tuskegee's greatest fullbacks, who will have charge of the backfield, succeeding T. C. Myers, who has entered Columbia University; J. E. Fields, former varsity tackle of the Wilberforce University team, will handle the reserve material, and Edward L. Dabney, of Hampton three times all-American center [illegible] assist John Brown, former Virginia Union star, with the line. Brown has been apointed assistant to Cleve L. Abbott, head coach.

The new men who have joined the squad are: Prater, Taylor, Crawford, Gilder, Kirkland, Bibb, Palmer, Shanklin, Adams, and Willis. Kalabala continues to loom above mediocrity.

The line has been strengthened by the return of Kitchen captain of the 1923 team; Duncan, end, captain of the 1924 champions, and William Harris of Chicago, Illinois, the driving tackle of the 1923 team. Faulkner, who was slightly ill in the early season has sufficiently recovered to be out to practice. Marvelous improvement is noted in his kicking and at this time he is outdistancing Stevenson, Tuskegee's triple-threat man.

The opening game, on September 26, will be played with the strong 24th Infantry team of Ft. Benning, Georgia, in the $50,000.00 Alumni Bowl. Captain Eberlee, U. S. Army, is a graduate of the University of Washington, and who was one of Gilbo Dobie's famous half-backs, is coaching the army team. He has a record of never having played on a team that lost and he boasts of the fact that the teams he has coached have always won.

HOWARD

Washington, D. C.—A squad of over forty men, including a number of the veterans of last year reported to Coach Watson Monday, Sept. 14th. Many new prospects from the leading high schools of the country have reported and are showing wonderful progress in the workouts. Until college opens, October 1st, Coach Watson is to hold daily workouts of the most rigorous kind in order to get his men in condition for the season's big program of games. No time is being lost and no effort is being spared by the Coach and his assistant, Charlie West, former Washington and Jefferson star, to assure this year an even more formidable football machine than those of former years.

With the passing of Priestley, star center of the past two seasons, the coaches are eager to develop several men for this position. It is gratifying to note the progress made by Kelly, Martin and Burrell, all of whom played line positions in former seasons. A number of veterans of former years were among the candidates last week. Among them, Captain Long, Joe Dodson, Harry Bright, Lester Braden and Bill Meroney.

MOREHOUSE

Fall practice started Saturday, the 19th. The rookies came out strong and Coach Harvey is trying hard to put the old pep into the gang; but it seems as if the drought or something has been affecting the boys. They just don't seem to put the fight in it that they should. Anyway, we'll hope for the best.

The new locker and shower room has been completed and we don't need to add that they are great. The fellows will find them much more convenient than the old ones in Graves and Robert Hall.

Most of the old bunch is coming back, "Red" Williams, the big varsity center, was laid up last season in the Benedict game with a badly injured knee, and won't be able to stand much rough stuff this season, but the plucky sub, Sherman, took his place and held it down like a veteran. This year Sherman is undoubtedly the best man in view for the position of snapper-back.

Tondee, one of the famous 'Horsemen', had a broken ankle from baseball practice, and won't be able to come out this year. This is a severe loss to the team, because Tondee was an especially valuable man for playing the ends. His end runs always netted a gain and the team will be considerably handicapped by his present inability.

All the rookies 'Horsemen' are back and rarin' to go. Clark, Arel Rogers and Walker were all on the campus two weeks before school opened getting in form for the season.

Star and Allen will show up later and report for the ends, and "Key West" Irving and Cooke are expected to take their old positions in the tackles. It is doubtful as to who will hold down the guards. There are so many big men among the rookies, we can't say as yet who will be selected, but Latimer and Dooley seem to have a fighting chance.

Without a doubt, Scott will call out signals again this year and Dago will certainly keep the old full-back going strong.

WINS WORLD SERIES TRIP IN BASEBALL CONTEST

[illegible], Ind., Sept. 23.—That colored men are well up and posted on sports was evidenced by the achievement of Fred F. Schutz, 828 Rhode Island street in winning the 1925 Herald and Examiner Babe Ruth contest.

He will see the world's series, as the guest of The Chicago Herald and Examiner as a reward for his having competed successfully against a field of more than 25,000 who attempted to match their knowledge of major league baseball players with that of Babe Ruth.

To win, Mr. Schutz named a team identical with that picked by Ruth. His accompanying fifty words of explanation for his choices were snappy and to the point.

A HOME RUN THAT WAS NOT A HOME RUN

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18. — One of the rare plays that are seldom witnessed by the baseball fans came up in the seventh inning of the second contest between the Baltimore Black Sox and the Cuban Stars at Maryland Park.

The play gave the Black Sox both ends of the double-header and prevented the Cubans from tying the count.

Having won the first game by the score of 7 to 6, the Black Sox were leading by the score of 5 to 2 in a game that was to be seven innings by agreement. With two men retired, Portuondo was on third base and Baro on first base. Martin Dihigo drove a clean home run into the right field stand and with two men already on the paths the score was virtually tied. Instead of going straight to the plate Portuondo loitered on the base line and picked up Dihigo's bat. Apparently unconscious of the fact that Portuondo had not touched the plate, Baro jogged up to the base line and touched the home plate ahead of Portuondo. Umpire Shewell ruled Baro out and the game ended without the Cubans scoring a run in the last inning. This is the first time in the history of the league that a home run has been hit and no run scored.

Evidently peeved by his part in the gross error and chided by Julius Rojo, the Baltimore catcher, Baro and Rojo came to blows after the game and were both taken into custody by the police.

[illegible] Wilson added spice to the eventful day by too vigorously protesting one of Umpire Mullen's decisions and was banished from the first fray.

Rain Stops Commerce Game

COMMERCE, Mo., Sunday, Sept. 20—The White Sox and West End Boys Baseball clubs were tied 4 to 4 in the sixth inning today when rain stopped the game. The same teams will play at Commerce again next Sunday, September 27.

LIEUT. JULIAN INJURED IN FLYING ACCIDENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Lieut. Herbert Julian, Negro ace, had his arms broken in five different places Saturday in an accident at the annual police games at the Jamaica race track.

Lieut. Julian was endeavoring to crank his engine, when the engine kicked and he was thrown 20 feet by the propellor. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where his arms were set in plaster paris casts.

Lieut. Julian had thrilled the thousands of spectators at the games with his daring stunt flying, prior to the accident.

SCHOOLS—STUDENTS—OBJECTS

September is the month for the schools, both public and private, to open. Schools, colleges and universities all have the same object—the determination to fight and eliminate ignorance.

Students in attending school have only one thing to lose—ignorance. The public schools, the fundamentals of education are taught, are free, the books are furnished free, yet, there are an number of children, even in St. Louis, who are not attending school. The race has too much at stake for the parents to permit their children to run the streets while school is in session and the demand tomorrow will be more stringent than it is today. Is it possible to secure a larger and more regular attendance?

People who failed to attend school in their earlier life, have the opportunity offered by the night schools. With an unflagging determination to improve one's self, there is nothing which that person cannot accomplish. And too, there is the home study course now being offered in every vocation. Therefore, a definite program may be obtained in education by one method or another.

As soon as possible parents should help their children to determine the object of their going to school. This should be done with intelligence, not with a dogmatic decision on the part of the parent to make of the child what they want it to be, without taking into consideration the child's natural ability and inherent qualities. As soon as this decision is made, every effort should lend to that accomplishment.

D'Israeli said: "The secret of success in a man's life, is for him to be ready when the opportunity comes." We are branching out, more and more, in the economic and commercial fields. Our young men and women would find it quite advantageous to prepare themselves for a definite work, whether there is an opportunity in that particular line or not. By the time they finish their preparation there may be an opening and if there is not; then like Napoleon, when faced with the supposed impassable mountain, said: "I will find a way or make one." With their specific training they can find a place or make one.

The progress of the race demands special trained men and women who can find a place or make one. Fred Douglass made his place when the odds were against him far more than any young man or woman face now or may face in the future. Booker T. Washington made his place in the industrial educational field and attracted the world to Tuskegee. Prof. Geo. W. Carver prepared himself and has made his place secure in chemical agriculture, and has given to the world more information on the value and benefit of the peanut and sweet potato than any other human ever knew. Junius Groves made his way to a Kansas farm and there heralded his name to the world as "The Potato King." Anthony Overton conceived the idea of making pure baking powders and other household necessities and started his "Hygenic" family about twenty years ago in Kansas City. Today he has a large four-story building, which houses his factory, a national bank, of which he is the president and a life insurance company which he also heads. Fifteen years ago, Heman Perry started the first and the legal reserve insurance company among Negroes. Today, there are more than a dozen of these companies doing business in this country with more than $250,000,000 of insurance in force. Out in the Indian Territory a young school teacher decided that he would drop teaching and enter the commercial field. With $1.50 and an idea, T. J. Elliott opened his gents furnishing and shoe store in a room about forty feet long. Today his store occupies a room 85x120 feet, in a three-story brick building which he owns. These men have made their way in different lines and should open our minds to the wonderful possibilities that await our men and women who will prepare themselves for specific work. There is the manufacturing field untouched; the radio, electricity, cotton, furniture and food production offer unlimited fields. Thousands of retail opportunities are in every large city. May the young people decide now on their field of effort so when the time comes to graduate they can enter their chosen work and soon make their way.

CITIZENS' COUNCIL

Sometime ago there was formed an organization known as the "Citizens' Council," with the Rev. Samuel A. Mosely, President and Rev. J. L. Johnson, Secretary.

We regarded its purposes lofty at the time because it proposed to guard well the interest of the colored people of the city in an economic, civic and political way.

We have noticed that many of those who are planning to run for office in this city and state next year, are getting together their little cliques and plans behind closed doors and laying all of their plans for the coming political campaign.

We suggest that we get together; it might be that we want to make a little state and be prepared to announce our candidate just about the time the bosses come forth with theirs. Don't sleep on the job—See?

"A TEST OF RACE PRIDE"

Under the above caption, several thousand hand bills were distributed in the neighborhood of the Stars baseball park, Saturday and Sunday in protest against white umpires as arbiters of the western championship games between the St. Louis Stars and the Kansas City Monarchs.

The effect of the circular read as follows:

"The baseball fans protest against the way the owners have treated the Negro umpires. Don't go to Stars' Baseball Park, unless Negro umpires. One of the owners made a remark that it made no difference whether they used white or black umpires, we would come to see the boys play just the same. Let us deceive them and stay away."

The fans' pride had been wounded, and such demonstrations on the part of the colored people against the whites, show that we are just about as prejudiced against the whites as they are against the colored.

"IT'S TATER DIGGIN' TIME IN DIXIE"

The above caption was used in an appeal to colored families to go to Mississippi to pick cotton by a "Mr. Williams," from Friars Point, Miss., who was in St. Louis, last week.

Many other inducements were offered colored families, such as shipment free, house and fuel free and $1.25 per hundred for picking cotton.

Just about the time this special train arrived at its destination, we imagine that instead of being greeted with "tater diggin' time in Dixie," they were greeted with another familiar term used in the South, which many seem to have forgotten, and that was, "Nigger burning time in Mississippi." Those who were beguiled into accepting the free offer, were met by a mob of whites more than a thousand strong, led by Sheriff John W. Roberts celebrating the holiday Sunday by burning one poor innocent Negro in a most barbaric style. Surely the "tater diggin' appeal" is like the story of the spider and the fly.

Comment and Opinion

Devoted to a Discussion of Social and Civic Problems and Events

GORDON B. SIMPSON
Executive Secretary, Urban League of St. Louis

THE VALUE OF A FREE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

St. Louis is one of the many cities throughout the country which enjoys the advantage of a physical Employment Bureau for its colored citizens. Such Bureaus are located primarily throughout the large industrial centers and promoted by the Urban League and similar organizations. Their value to the community is inestimable, particularly so since the migration from the South. It has played such an important part in the increase of Negro Urban population.

To the stranger arriving in town without any connection whatsoever with family, friends, or other ties the knowledge that there is a place where he can go and receive warm and courteous treatment and direction to help him "find himself" in his new location is comforting. For instance, John Blank arrives in St. Louis. He is directed by the Urban League Employment Bureau where he is given a job, together with friendly advice as to where and how to locate in St. Louis. He is urged to make connections with the church and be steady on his job, save his money and he is thus headed toward making himself a valued citizen in the community.

Another John Blank arrives in town, perhaps with some money in his pockets. He "wants a job" until his money runs out and finally may be forced to apply to some relief agency for funds to tide him over or perhaps him and his family until he can locate a job. Just what might happen in the interim is not easily calculated.

It will thus be seen that in the placing of over 10,000 people during the past two years the Free Employment Bureau of the Urban League of St. Louis is rendering a very valuable service to the community. Without such service the community necessary for relief for families undoubtedly would be greatly increased accompanied by a probable increase in crime, due to the desperateness of the situation faced by a man without money or friends.

Nor is the activity of this Department of the Urban League worn confined to the placement of men and women in jobs. Through the means of heart-to-heart talks in the Employment Office workers are urged to be punctual, regular and efficient in their work and to hold up the standard of the Negro in industry. In addition, pointers on health and general welfare are given to the applicants.

The other side of the placement work is the smoothing out of many difficulties between employers and employees which are cleared through the Employment Department when requests are made for help. Oftimes difficulties which would eliminate colored workers from positions are made to come through the efforts of the Employment Secretary in urging the employer to be fair in his judgment and not allow his attitudes and actions to be prejudiced by occasional disappointments in a prospective worker.

These are some of the considerations of the value of a Free Employment service as rendered by the Urban League through its Employment Department here in St. Louis. Their value to the community in the improvement of race relations is inestimable.

SCHOOL FOR DEFECTIVE CHILDREN IS NOW OPEN

By Mary A. Newman, Neighborhood Secretary Urban League

To anyone educated in the typical one-room country school house or even the usual city school, a step into the new Charles Henry Turner School on Kenerly avenue would be a real revelation. It makes one almost long for childhood again for the mere purpose of going back to school.

This building is beautiful to the highest degree and as modern and comfortable as modern science can make it. There are seven class rooms, well ventilated and attractive, in the building with comfortable, adjustable seats, a plentiful supply of light and large blackboard space.

There are manual training rooms, well fitted with work benches and tools and a domestic science kitchen that would delight any girl's heart. There is one large airy room in the building fitted with 48 cots, where the children may have regular rest periods during the day, as well as being able to sleep at school, the children are cared for in the building from a splendidly equipped and immaculately neat modern diet kitchen. Shower baths and dressing rooms are also provided. There are no tedious, tiresome stairs for little feet to climb, but the second floor is reached by a gentle slope which requires no more effort to walk than a slight rise in a city street.

To this school, the children who have any kind of physical defect, but who are normal mentally, may be admitted. It is hard for a child who has a crippled ankle or a stiff knee or any defect of his physical body, to have to push and shove for existence in a school with normal children, so this special school has been constructed for just such as these. Seats that can be moved from place to place on casters and work that can be done at the child's own desk is provided for these children. Every possible aid is given them and provision is being made to call for these children, take them to school, and return them to their homes in the evenings. In this way, there are many children who were never able to go to school, because of some physical defect, who will be able to attend every day now.

Aside from this, provision has been made for children having difficulty with sight. They will be given special, individual care and effort will be made to preserve and strengthen their sight. Instead of writing, they will use typewriters. They will have special books with large print to read and every effort will be made to protect their eyes.

There will be classes for children who have difficulty with speech, where, with careful training and pains-taking methods, they will be aided in overcoming this difficulty.

There are three rooms which will be devoted to children who are under-weight and under-nourished. These rooms will have plenty of fresh air all day long. It is these children who will receive special food and have special rest periods.

No tuberculur children will be admitted as the danger of these children mingling with other children is realized. Only these children who are under-weight and under-nourished are admitted to the open air classes.

The work in the class rooms will be of a delightful nature. The rooms will not be graded, there being in each room, persons from all the grades from kindergarten to the 8th grade and each child will be given individual instruction according to his individual needs.

There will be libraries and sand tables and all the delightful means of making school work interesting will be employed. It is told of one little boy who did not want to go to school and who cried on the first day because he had to go, but when it came time to go home he cried more because he did not want to leave this beautiful school.

The Charles Henry Turner School is most assuredly a great opportunity and every mother who has a child properly belonging in this school should make every possible effort to gain the child's admittance which may be attended to by seeing Miss Myers, acting Principal of the School.

If you are not the parent of such a child, please be kind enough to any child who you may know properly belongs in the school to tell him and his parents about it.

DR. CROSSLAND SUED

Special to The Argus

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—"As a last resort," according to a statement by the plaintiff, "we had to file suit against Dr. Cossland in our effort to collect money we advanced him to save him when a bad check given by him was turned down." Thus ran the story of Dr. Crossland's latest troubles. Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hughes are the sorrowing complainants in the case.

The suit is the outgrowth of a charge of passing a bad check nearly a year ago against Dr. Crossland. It was alleged at that time that he gave a check for $120 to Charles Phelps, St. Joseph business man. The check was on a Washington, D. C., bank and when it was presented for payment, it was returned marked "no funds."

SHOOTS WHITE ATTACKER

Andrew Bryant, a 22-year-old white machinist, lies in the city hospital in a critical condition with a shot gun wound in his left forearm, while Cornelius Wallace, a 24 year-old colored boy who inflicted the wound in protection of his mother, Mrs. Wallace, from an assault by Bryant is in confinement in the Central district police station.

Wallace charged that he shot Bryant, when he attempted to attack his mother, Monday night at his home at 1743 North Tenth St. Wallace is being held pending the outcome of the wound.

GOES TO WHIPPING POST FOR BEATING HIS WIFE

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 23—Five lashes across his bear back with a whip was the penalty exacted of Earnest Ward, colored, by Sheriff Albaugh in the county jail, Tuesday, for wife beating. Ward was the second man to go to the whipping post here for this offense within the last few months. He bore his punishment stoically.

JUDGE INVESTIGATES RE-ARREST OF NEGRO

"Third degree" tactics of the police might go alright in the district station house, but when such are practised in a court house after a prisoner is released, there needs to be some explaining done.

As the results of the re-arrest of Allen Williams, 26, (colored) of 623 North Leonard, Monday in the court building after he had been released on a $1500 bond on a charge of larceny by Judge Gayer of the Court of Criminal Correction, the latter has started an investigation. Judge Gayer had refused detective Sergeant Collins permission to re-arrest Williams in the court room but the detective stated that he wished to question Collins further.

Outside the court room doors Williams alleged Collins not only arrested him, but struck him and refused to tell him the reason for his chastisement. He was held in confinement for over eight hours.

Collins report of the release of Williams made no mention of striking him and stated the reason for release as insufficient evidence.

WINS DAILY ESSAY PRIZE

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 23—"What Would I Do With $1,00,000?" This was the title of several hundred essays submitted in the Toledo Blade (white) Contest in which Mrs. Drusilla Tandy Porter won the second prize of $25. Her prize winning essay contained sound, clean thought. It read:

"What would I do with a million!

"Well, I wouldn't be human unless I took about a quarter of that fortune and saw to the needs and comfort of my family. And that would include for myself, a degree from Oberlin College and a chance to make faces at the 'Less Expensive Dress Department' and for once, to sit down in a chair and shop in the "French Room."

"From force of habit I would save some for a rainy day.

"But the greatest of all would be—(dear reader, spare me for ridicule, for I am sincere) the establishment of a trust fund to be used by poor girls like me, whose greatest ambition in life is to be the mother of a large family. If there were only a way of properly providing for and educating them, I sincerely believe motherhood woman's highest profession, large families a great blessing, and WANTED children the finest men and women."

WHITE IS HELD FOR ASSAULT ON BARBER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 23—Thos. Nurse, 34 (white) a Chicago character is being held here on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, following an attack on a colored barber.

The victim of the assault, Tom Tyler of 846 Michael street, was struck over the head with a headrest, when he refused a drink of "white mule." He suffered a severe scalp laceration and a probable fractured skull.

GETS LIFE FOR SLAYING

DANVILLE, Ind., Sept. 23—Wm. Butler, colored of Indianapolis was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Z. E. Dongan in Hendricks County Circuit court Thursday, after a jury had found him guilty of first degree murder. He was charged with killing Ovie Vinegar, a colored woman, also of Indianapolis, last November. He will be taken to the Michican City prison. The jury was out but twenty minutes.

SPEEDING AUTOMOBILE KILLS BUSINESS MAN

ALBUQERQUE, New Mexico, Sept. 23.—James R. Thorpe (white) of Santa Fe, New Mexico, is being held here to answer a charge of manslaughter following the death of J. D. D. Gamble and the injury of the latter's five year-old son in an automobile collision. Thorpe's Cadillac struck a Ford belonging to Gamble while traveling at a rate of 30 to 35 miles an hour.

COLORED TYPIST TO TRY FOR SPEED CHAMPIONSHIP

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—Cortez Peters, one of the world's speediest typists, who just April won the Underwood Diamond Medal for speed in typing, by averaging 143 words a minute, has entered the world amateur typing contest to be held in New York in October.

Cortez is undergoing intensive training for the contest. He has been practicing technique in the Underwood typing school.

INDIANS TREATED UNFAIR

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 23 — The old story of injustice to Indians was repeated to a committee of the senate committee on public lands by the Nez Perces Indians, from whose ranks came the famous warrior, Chief Joseph.

The Indians made grave charges against the Indian bureau of the department of the interior. If given time, they stated, they could prove every charge from the records of the bureau itself.

BUG CAST FOR MOVIE

It was alleged that more than 63,000,000 feet of lumber had been sold from their reservation and that they had not received one cent and that every request for an accounting had been refused by the bureau's representative.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 — Motion pictures with bugs composing the entire cast have been completed by the cinema laboratory of the department of agriculture.

In contrast to the usual production with their heroes and heroines these pictures feature only villains.

In one film the calosoma beetle, plays the lead, chasing a gypsy moth, decapitating it and then dragging it to its lair. In other pictures the boll weevil performs on a cotton plant, the clothes moth does its antics on a piece of wool and the bed bug demonstrates its liking for human association by crawling on an attendant.

While the acts were being recorded the warble fly developed stage fright and the picture could not be completed, until the performer was reduced to semi-consciousness by chloroform.

Temperament also was in evidence.

Bees so objected to being photographed that they chased the cameraman into a cellar and the boll weevils insisted upon close-up. Several times the grinding camera had to be stopped while the weevils were extricated from the lenses.

Some of the biggest things in your life may have been very small.

To ascertain what a trip will cost multiply your estimate by two.

U. S. TO OBSERVE FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 4-10

President Coolidge Asks All Citizens To Unite In Efforts To Combat The Country's Great Menace

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23—The week beginning Sunday, October 4, has been proclaimed National Fire Prevention week by President Coolidge.

All the citizens of the United States are expected to observe National Fire Prevention Week in order to bring to the public's conscience the vast destruction and waste that is caused by fires in this country each year and to awaken a stronger spirit of co-operation in the fight against the menace.

Up To the Public

In observing Fire Prevention Week many public demonstrations will be held. In soce cities parades will be held. In every city exercises, poster contests, etc., will be held among the school children. Mass meetings sermons by the clergy and lectures are also featured.

The text of the President's proclamation follows:

Survey of Wastage

"The time has come for the annual resurvey of the nation's enormous wastage alike in human life and in property and for the annual appeal for the lessening of this huge loss. I am informed that during 1924 fires caused the loss of approximately 15,000 lives and of property exceeding $548,000,000 in value. The figures are startling; they are yet more so when it is added that this is declared by competent authorities the greatest fire loss in any year of our history.

"This waste results from conditions which justify a sense of shame and horror; for the greater part of it could and ought to be prevented. Not only was the 1924 fire loss greater than that of any preceding year, but the loss for the first half of 1925 exceeded that for the like period of 1924. As a result of careful inquiries, I am informed that whereas the absolute as well as the per capita fire loss of this country tends to increase from year to year the same losses in comparable European countries tend to increase. For the most recent comparable periods fire losses in Great Britian are calculated at less than $1 per capita per annum while those of the United States are placed at approximately $5 per capita. Comparisons with other European countries are similarly to our discredit.

Would Reform Conditions

"It is highly desirable that every effort be made to reform the conditions which have made possible so vast a destruction of the national wealth. To this end, for a long time past it has been customary to set aside a week in each year, during which the need of fire prevention may be emphasized. It is important that this practice be continued.

"Therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge President of the United States recommend that the week beginning Sunday, October 4, be observed as National Fire Prevention Week. To state and municipal officials civic organizations, school authorities and all citizens and organized bodies, I appeal for the fullest co-operation in improving conditions. There is need for earnest study for the principles of fire protection as a practical measures of national economy."

Negro Schools To Study, In French, The Story Of Toussaint L'Ouverture

Dr. G. R. Simpson has done the race a great favor in editing for school purposes Gragnon-Lacoste's biography of Toussaint L'Ouverture, the Negro soldier, statesman, and martyr of Haiti. Here we have a valuable book subserving a double purpose. It facilitates the study of a foreign language by presenting matter of immediate interest to the Negro student. At the same time it supplies him with valuable information about one of the greatest figures in history regardless of color. This book, then, meets a long felt need for what stimulus can there come to a Negro student of French when he reads the deeds of Louis the XIV, etc. etc. Negro student of history if he is to restrict himself altogether to the study of Ceasar, Napoleon, and Gladstone?

In this story, however, one will not find propaganda. It is merely the narrative of the unusual deeds of an exceptional man. With little opportunity for development, the hero of the story made himself a leader of men. Against tremendous odds he hurled his ill equipped soldiers at the military forces of France, representing the proudest blood of Europe. He humiliatingly defated these Frenchmen, and laid the foundation of an independent republic. No story is more fascinating than this. Few writers have written a narrative as gripping as this of Toussaint L'Ouverture, the warrior, the hero, the savior of his country.

To appreciate the worth of this man and the importance of drawing upon his career for impressive lessons to develop the character of the Negro youth, one cannot do better than bear in mind these words of Wendell Phillips "I would call him Napoleon, but Napoleon made his way to empire over broken oaths and a sea of blood. This man never broke his word. 'No Retaliation' was his great motto and the rule of his life; and the last words uttered to his son in France were these: 'My boy, you will one day go back to San Domingo; forget that France murdered your father.' I would call him Cromwell, but Cromwell was only a soldier, and the state he founded went down with him into his grave; I would call him Washington, but the great Virginian held slaves. This man risked his empire rather than permit the slave trade in the humble villages of his dominions. Fifty years hence, when truth gets a hearing, the muse of history will put Phocion for the Greeks, Brutus for the Romans, Hampton for England, Fayette for France, choose Washington as the bright consummate flower of our earlier civilization, and John Brown as the ripe fruit of our noon-day; then, dipping her pen in the sunlight, will write in the clear blue, above them all, the name of the soldier, the statesman, the martyr, Toussaint L'Ouverture."

The book is well printed and neatly bound. It contain a useful map of Haiti. It has a number of exercises for composition and conversation in French and also a useful vocabulary. It is a handy volume containing 130 pages sold for $1.10 by the Associated Publishers, 1538 Ninth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

CITIZENS MORE THRIFTY BANK ACCOUNTS SHOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—Americans are becoming thriftier and thriftier—all wailings about "spendthrift America" notwithstanding.

Figures made public Thursday by the federal reserve board prove it. They disclosed that in 902 principal banks August 1 saving accounts amounted to 7,903 million dollars, a gain of more than 1-2 billion dollars over August 1, 1924, or nearly $5 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The figures disclosed, however, a drop of about 70 million dollars from the previous month's figures, but board officials attributed this to the fact that July is "vacation month," and estimated that 80 per cent of the withdrawals were made for vacation purpose, affording an interesting insight into the annual American vacation bill.

The American people far surpass all other peoples in their savings according to figures compiled by the reserve board.

TRACE KLAN'S THREAT OF HARM TO N. Y. FAMILY

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Efforts are being made by the District Attorney and postoffice officials to trace the source of a K. K. K. letter bearing a threat to do harm.

The message was addressed to Samuel E. Browne and his family, who have tenanciously held to their home at 67 Fairview avenue, Castleton Hill, Staten Island, in spite of the efforts of whites to compel them to leave.

The letter declared that the klan would intercede in the move to oust the Brownes and that some of the organization's effective methods in handling Negroes would be used. It called the law's protection a huge joke, and stated that nothing would interfere with the punishing of Browne and his family [illegible]. The letter was signed with three "K's."

COLORED MAN POSSESSOR OF A PRICELESS RELIC

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—A colored citizen, Victor D. Chambers of 135 Codding street, Providence, is the possessor of a precious antique. It is a scarf which was given to his grandmother by the Marquis de Lafayette 100 years ago. The scarf is of the finest figure and hand woven. It is 7 feet 6 inches long and 18 inches wide and has a handsome fringe. Marquis de Lafayette presented the scarf to Chamber's grandmother as an expression of appreciation for her service.

"OLD BILL" AT 57 IS THE OLDEST HORSE IN WORLD

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The "oldest horse in the world" was discovered Monday on an obscure little farm in Harmony township, Warren County, eight miles from Washington, N. J.

It is "Old Bill," reputed by his owner to be 57 years old, and still in harness. If this figure be correct, and Mr. Sonder produces data to prove it, "Old Bill" has surpassed the record of "Old Clover," the race horse that died in May, 1924, at the age of 53.

"Old Clover" spent his declining years living a life of clover." But "Old Bill" the latest equine Methusaleh, expects no such easy life. His life has been one of toil and he expects to continue in toil until his death. Although "Old Clover" spent his remaining years traveling first class about the country, "Old Bill" continues to do farm work, and is kicking with all the gusto of a much younger horse.

EQUAL RIGHTS LEAGUE NAT'L CONVENTION

To Be Held At Baltimore On Oct. 7, 8, 9. Churches And Societies Asked To Join In One Big "Kick" Against Many Injustices Suffered By The Race

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 21.—The Equal Rights League has just issued a formal call for the annual convention, which is to be held at Baltimore, Md., early in October.

The call indicates that the need of the convention is greater this year than ever before, because of the continual rising tide of color prejudice which threatens our very existence in this country.

Text of the Call

"To Fellow Members and all Fellow Americans of Color:—

"The fall of this year of our Lord 1925, finds Americans of African descent still unprotected by our federal government from the lynching mob, not vouchsafed political rights in fact in the South nor civil rights in the District of Columbia, and in the National Capitol building. It finds us still subjected to racial discrimination, injustice and elimination in the Civil service, as also in the army and navy schools and service, even under Republican administrations.

"Even more menacing stands out the continuance of positive color segregation of government employees in the Executive Department of Federal government even whole Colored segregated sections, a special low status for race.

"Very wide-spread—and naturally so under such a governmental example—has become color discrimination and deprivation, with other consequent maltreatments and molestations. The white American movement to create a color caste, the only public case in America, is making headway. To an alarming extent we are being singled out alone from all the many races of Americans for public segregation in education, transportation, places for service and accomodation and in industry. This ostracism threatens to make of us the only American civic outcasts. Public contempt results, and denial of livlihood.

Colored America, thus dangerously circumstanced, a race 15 million strong, in possession of education, of churches, businesses, property and money reaching into billions, the National Equal Rights League calls to its manifest duty, that of doing what every other oppressed class which won relief has done, to assemble in national convention to consider ways, means and method of action on its account, initiative and conception to combat these menacing wrongs. "Who would be free, themselves must strike a blow." The world today and in history respects even oppressed races who, however otherwise aided, through self-respect and power conduct some fight of their own.

"Therefore and hereby this League, which expressed admiration for all of the race who did otherwise while at its last annual meeting advising the race to nationally support Republicans, invites all, at its 18th Annual Meeting one year after, in the Trinity Baptist Church, Druid Hall Avenue and McMeechen Streets, Baltimore, Rev. Luke D. Reynolds, pastor, October 7-9, 1925 close to the seat of the Federal government, to assemble in an open National Race Mass Convention, there to be held by it, for a general racial Get-Together on where we are at, and what we as a great race should ourselves say and do in organized resistance, as one asset of relief added to any and all other forms.

"Come one and all to racial conference; as far as possible let all racial bodies, religious, fraternal, literary, civic, civil rights, send delegates, and especially let there be delegates sent by the general Colored citizenry in every place, through meetings called by Citizens' Committees, by Equal Rights Committees, or Equal Rights League branches, even ones newly formed for this object.

"Any desired particulars can be attained from the corresponding secretary, Wm. Monroe Trotter, 9 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

Sincerely for Equality for my race,
Wm. A. SINCLAIR, President."

JAILED; CHARGED WITH MURDER OF BOY

Associated Negro Press

CHESTERFIELD, S. C., Sept. 23.—When Ernest Diggs and Henry Robinson, 19, were on the chain gang together, Diggs made a deal with Robinson, whose term expired first, to go to his home and take care of the crop until he, Diggs, should be released. Robinson did this. Later, when Diggs was released and came to the farm, it became difficult for him and Robinson to agree. The latter was telling some of the hands on the farm of his treatment from Diggs when the latter came up from behind and struck him across the head with the leg of a chair. Robinson died. Diggs has been arrested and is being held on a murder charge.

REVIEW

GOLDEN TEXT—"Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see Him not yet believing ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory"—I Peter 1:8.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul's Love for His People.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Best Wishes for His People.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How the Gospel Spread.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of the Gospel.

The method of review must always be determined largely by the genius of the teacher and the condition of the class. For this review, two methods are suggested:

1.—The Biographical. This can be used in all the grades excepting, perhaps, the beginners. When skillfully presented, living, active personalities appeal to the heart and imagination of all ages. Among the interesting characters appear Paul, Luke, Silas, Timothy, Barnabas, Mark, Lydia, the Philippian jailer, James and the slave girl at Philippi. These characters can be assigned to the members of the class the preceding week.

2. The Summary Method. This involves the presentation of the salient points, and the central outstanding message of each lesson. The following suggestions are offered:

July 5.
The sending forth of Paul and Barnabas marked the beginning of foreign missions as the deliberately planned enterprise of the church. The Holy Spirit selected and sent out these missionaries, showing that the true method of world evangelization is to have spirit-sent men to preach the gospel.

July 12.
The grand theme of Paul's preaching was justification by faith. Those who receive Christ as their Saviour are freely justified from all things. Jesus took the place of the sinner that the sinner might have His place (II Cor. 5:21). This is the missionary message for all times.

July 19.
At Lystra Paul and Barnabas "so" preached the gospel that a great multitude believed. Only that which brings conviction of sin and induces belief in Christ can be said to be preaching in the biblical sense.

July 26.
Receiving the Gentiles on the simple condition of faith in Christ provoked a spirit of controversy in the church. Through Christ the middle wall of partition was broken down so that in this dispensation God makes no distinction between Jew and Gentile.

August 2.
James shows to the Jewish believers scattered abroad, who were passing through sore trials and persecutions, that true religion was to receive with meekness the engrafted Word, and live a self-restrained, unselfish life, bridling the tongue, helping those in need, and keeping unspotted from the world.

August 9.
Because of differences of opinion over John Mark, Paul and Barnabas separated. God overruled their contention to the wider dissemination of the gospel.

August 16.
The believer has been born twice, of the flesh and of the Spirit. A mortal conflict goes on within him. The Christian's victory over the flesh is by yielding to the Holy Spirit, who dwells within.

August 23.
On the second missionary journey Paul attempted to preach in Asia Minor, but the Holy Spirit shut the doors against him. At Troas he had the explanation in the vision of a man from Macedonia calling him to preach the gospel in Europe. Divine guidance is as truly through closed doors as through open doors.

August 30.
Because of the casting out of an evil spirit from a slave girl at Philippi, Paul and Silas were imprisoned. As they were singing God's praises in the jail, God miraculously delivered them.

September 6.
To be in Christ is to have gain above the best things in the world. Those who are in Christ will have His mind, and therefore will press towards the goal.

September 13.
Though unselfishly preaching the Word of God, Paul was hated and persecuted by the Jews.

September 20.
Because Paul had experienced the life in Christ, and knew whom he had believed, he with undaunted courage went about preaching the gospel.

The Winners Group are still leading. Services Sunday at the usual hour.

BEREA PRESBYTERIAN

We welcome the choir. Truly glad to see them and follow their lead in the hymns, to the sanctuary. Do not stay away. You need the services and the church needs you. The fire of God will not consume a sacrifice which is not on the alter. Most of the coal is in the church cellar and, frankly, we have not been using it during September. But let us pay the bill which will be due next day after the Rally. The copper valleys on the roof need repairing, some glazing is necessary, the organ motor is on a strike for attention from an electrician and the fire and wind storm insurances are due. You know of other needs. What will be your response. Our Benevolence Budget is twice as large as last year's. Presbytery is putting more responsibility upon us which is a compliment. "Stewardship" is the battle cry of our great Church throughout the world today. What is it? "Stewardship is the joyous management of all one possess—time, talent, strength, health, beauty, personality, money—to do fully all that God planned for each life". Have you a life purpose? Livingstone's sent him to Africa. Compare yours with this:

David Livingstone's:

"I will place no value on anything I have or may possess, except in its relation to the Kingdom of Christ. If anything I have will advance the interest of that Kingdom it shall be given up or kept, as by keeping or giving it I shall most promote the glory of Him to whom I owe all my hopes, both of time and eternity. May grace be given me to adhere to this."

Read a better one and the Master's reward Mark 10:28-31. While writing this, Mr. Robert Dixon phones that Mrs. Dixon was operated upon at Barnes Hospital yesterday and is in a serious condition. Week before last her strenuous work for the Rally was cited. May she be spared to see her heart's desire.

SCRUGGS MEMORIAL C. M. E.
Spring and Cook Aves.

Bishop R. A. Carter, one of the greatest orators in the country, will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The citizens of St. Louis should not miss this opportunity to hear this eloquent speaker.

Last Sunday morning evangelistic services were held in the Sunday School. Mrs. J. A. Bray and Miss Harris made valuable contributions to the meeting. This meeting resulted in the addition of twenty-two children to the church.

Rev. Langford is preaching a series of sermons on "The Cause and Effect of the Fall of Our Great Bible Characters." Last Sunday he told us of the "Fall of Adam." Those who had the privilege of hearing him were well paid for their attendance. At 8 o'clock this Sunday evening his subject will be "The Fall of King Solomon." Don't fail to hear him.

The first Sunday in October our rally will come to a close, at which time the choir will give a sacred concert under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Snyder.

NEW SERIES OF SERMONS AT LANE

Not long ago Rev. H. W. Evans closed a series of sermons on "Evolution," which crowded Lane Tabernacle beyond capacity. If "Evolution" was an engrossing subject, and it certainly was, the coming series which begins Sunday morning promises to eclipse even that entertaining subject. Oddly enough, the general subject is given in a few simple words, "Why I am a Christian."

That simple subject can be made a query which any one might be asked, and which any one might not be prepared to answer intelligently. But it will be delightful to hear Rev. Evans, pastor of Lane Tabernacle, interpret this screaming question in his masterly way. The first chapter will be presented Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. The Literary Society has begun its fall and winter program which was very impressive last Monday night. Rev. Samuel Johnson spoke on "Some Things About Education," and Mrs. Ella Howell on the "Missionary Question." Both were immensely fine. This Monday night Mr. E. M. Kelley will speak of love and its accomplishments.

ST. ANGEL BAPTIST

The outpouring of the Holy Spirit came down to St. Angel on Sunday, September 20. It came upon the assembled believers individually, and also did a work in a cooperative way. It did not only come upon each, but all were baptized with the Holy Spirit and united in a body.
John R. Tunstell, Pastor.
Rev. Josiah Taylor, Asst. Pastor

ST. PETERS A. M. E.

Sunday was another great day for St. Peters. The Sunday school was well attended. At 11 a. m. the pastor delivered a sermon from II Chronicles 31:21 "He did it with all his heart and prospered," and at 8 p. m. from St. John 5:6, "Wilt thou be made whole?"

The Rev. Mrs. R. V. Burkes of Louisiana, will begin a revival at St. Peters, Sunday, September 27. She is a wonderful speaker. Come out to hear her.

Sunday September 27, will be Dollar Money day. All members are requested to be present and pay their dollar money.

Don't forget the birthday party Friday night. Come and encourage the Trustee Helpers.

The sick of the church are convalescing, with the exception of Mrs. Smith, the mother of Mrs. Bertha Grant, who suffered a relapse.

Pastor's Aid Club meets at the church each Thurday night. Class and prayer meeting every Wednesday night.

You are always welcome at St. Peters.
Rev. E. E. Treadwell, Pastor.

It was an impressive sight when the ten captains with their companies marched to their respective pews. Rev. Grant Lewis delivered a strong impressive sermon. The rally was continued to next Sunday. It is hoped that each club will be fully represented. Come and worship with us; you are welcome.

LIBERTY CONGREGATIONAL

In a brief but very informing discussion last Sunday, Rev. Stanley gave an outline of the principles of the Congregational Church in America. As a self-governing body, each individual church represents in the fullest a typical democracy. Its fundamental principles are a belief in freedom and toleration. The individual is his own arbiter. It has a peculiar missionary genius and is un-sectarian in its fellowship. Its regional conferences are inspirational rather than legislative in purpose. To build up our church with its larger life we must have a prayer life, intense Bible study and we must work.

Nothing Compares With Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Declares This Lady From Virginia

Mrs. Mary W. Banks, Dunnville, Va., says: "I have found nothing to compare with Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Preparations for the complexion."

Among the "F. F. V's" of Virginia, where ladies are judged by their grace of manner and charm of beauty, in fact, ladies in all walks of life, from Maine to California, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, are improving their beauty, renewing the youthful texture of their skin and lightening their complexions with Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Preparations, and there is a special preparation for each need. The Skin Whitener for lightening the complexion; Skin Whitener Soap and Powder for smoothing and beautifying the complexion and Hair Dresser for properly grooming milady's tresses.

Any complexion, no matter how dark, muddy or oily, Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Ointment will transform it like magic into a lovely, soft, velvety skin—the blotches and tan marks vanish, pimples clear up, the skin becomes clearer and lighter and the excessive oil which causes "shine" disappears.

Women everywhere are simply wild about Dr. Fred Palmer's Soap and Powder, for it is delightfully fragrant, clings to the skin nicely and has a soft satiny appearance. Wind does not blow it off, it prevents oil from forming on the skin and keeps the skin from chapping in all kinds of weather.

Dr. Fred Palmer has developed the most marvellous Hair Dressing known to science. It makes the hair straight, soft, long and luxuriant, removes dandruff, keeps the scalp healthy and makes the hair grow. No hair too stiff or crinkly for it to improve.

Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Preparations—four in all—Skin Whitener, Skin Whitener Soap, Skin Whitener Powder and Hair Dressing—may be had from almost any toilet goods counter serving race people. Be sure you get the genuine by insisting upon Dr. FRED Palmer's, and if your dealer cannot supply you, they will be sent direct from the laboratory upon receipt of price, 25c each, or the four for one dollar. Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

A Baby In Your Home

Thousands of copies of a new book by Dr. H. Will Elders are being distributed to women without cost. Every woman who wants children should read this book and learn all about STERILTONE and its wonderful effect in constitutional weakness. Many things are unfolded that the average woman has never been told before. For Free Book send NO Money. NO Obligations, simply name and address to Dr. H. Will Elders, 348 Ballinger Bldg., St. Joseph, Mo.

"OH, HOW MUCH GOOD IT DID MY FACE!"

—and then Miss Beatrice Blakes, of Advance, Mo., says further, "I have tried many things, but there is none can beat Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Preparations."

Every day, more and more ladies are learning of the wonderful merits of Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Preparations for taking care of the complexion and hair. Once they use them, they wonder how they ever got along without them before, and invariably pronounce them the most wonderful of all toilet preparations for race people.

Ladies in all walks of life, from Maine to California and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, are improving their beauty, renewing the youthful texture of their skin and lightening their complexions with Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Preparations, and there is a special preparation for each need. The Skin Whitener for lightening the complexion; Skin Whitener Soap and Powder for smoothing and beautifying the complexion and Hair Dresser for properly grooming milady's tresses.

Any complexion, no matter how dark, muddy or oily, Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Ointment will transform it like magic into a lovely, soft, velvety skin—the blotches and tan marks vanish, pimples clear up, the skin becomes clearer and lighter and the excessive oil which causes "shine" disappears.

Women everywhere are simply wild about Dr. Fred Palmer's Soap and Powder, for it is delightfully fragrant, clings to the skin nicely and has a soft satiny appearance. Wind does not blow it off, it prevents oil from forming on the skin and keeps the skin from chapping in all kinds of weather.

Dr. Fred Palmer has developed the most marvellous Hair Dressing known to science. It makes the hair straight, soft, long and luxuriant, removes dandruff, keeps the scalp healthy and makes the hair grow. No hair too stiff or crinkly for it to improve.

Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Preparations—four in all—Skin Whitener, Skin Whitener Soap, Skin Whitener Powder and Hair Dressing—may be had from almost any toilet goods counter serving race people. Be sure you get the genuine by insisting upon Dr. FRED Palmer's, and if your dealer cannot supply you, they will be sent direct from the laboratory upon receipt of price, 25c each, or the four for one dollar. If you want to try before you buy send 4c in stamps for free samples of Skin Whitener Ointment, Skin Whitener Face Powder and Skin Whitener Soap, addressing Dr. Fred Palmer's Laboratories, Dept. R-4, Atlanta, Ga.

Questions And Answers In Negro History

By GEORGE WELLS PARKER
Author Of
"The Children of the Sun"

Questions pertaining to Negro history anywhere, if of general interest and not too long, will be answered by Mr. Parker in this column. When space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations, and when a stamped envelope is enclosed. Address all communications to George Wells Parker, the Associated Negro Press, 3423 Indiana Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

—Copyright, 1925, by Associated Negro Press.

Was Judy P. Benjamin a Negro or a Jew and where will I find her record?—D. D. D., Chester, S. C.

The subject was not a "her" but a "him." The correct name was Judah B. Benjamin, a Jew, and one time U. S. Senator from South Carolina. He also took a leading part in the Confederacy.

How many Negro papers have we in the United States?—[illegible] Minn.

About 125. The Negro Year Book by Monroe Work of Tuskegee, gives a fairly accurate list.

What was the nationality of Simon who carried the cross of Jesus? What was the name of King David's mother? Are the colored people the only seed of Abraham?—W. F. A., Philadelphia, Pa.

(1) Simon was a Cyrene and of Negro descent. (2) Do not know. His father was Jesse. (3) The Jews claim to be the seed of Abraham. Abraham was a Cushite of Chaldea and was the reputed father of many of the tribes of Asia, many of them of Negro descent. Being a Cushite, he was himself a Negro.

How many Negro millionaires in the United States?—A. J., Philadelphia, Pa.

None that I know of. Some are reputed to be, but know of no data that specifies their income. Have heard of none whose names appear in the tax records with fortunes that approximate a million.

Did Abraham Lincoln fight any slave cases before he became President?—G. G. L., Detroit, Mich.

One of his first cases was that of "Black Nance," whose case he fought and won. She was an escaped slave.

Was the hero Perseus a Negro?—B. R. T., Los Angeles.

Perseus was of African descent. He married Andromeda, a princess of Ethiopia. He was himself an Argive, and from the City of Argos founded by African colonists.

FIND DEAD MAN'S BODY

Associated Negro Press

SPRINGFIELD, S. C., Sept. 23.—The body of Eby Williams, a sawmill worker, was found lying near the Southern Railway tracks Monday. His skull was crushed, leading to the theory that he came to his death by foul means.

Be Beautiful

This column is conducted by Madame Katherine Wilson, author of The Successful Hairdresser and founder of the famous California Sun Parlor and School of Beauty Culture in Omaha, Nebraska. Questions for her should be addressed to Mme. Katherine Wilson, 3423 Indiana Ave., The Associated Negro Press, Chicago, Ill.

Miss Canada—A short time ago we carried in these columns a lengthy discussion on the eradication of superfluous hair. I will state again that there is only one sure way of removing it.

You must seek the services of an expert in electrolysis. I am sure that there is one in your town. The application of the electricity to the root of the hair kills all growth and is permanent. This method is expensive and a little painful but worth while in the end.

Depilatories remove the hair but the effect is only temporary and the hairs come back with more [illegible] than ever.

Mrs. P. S. P.—A little lady from cold Canada. It is hard to realize that you should take as much interest in our papers as your sisters in the States. There is no doubt that your sudden change from the balmy climate of St. Louis to the long winters and little sunlight of Alberta is responsible for the deterioration of what was once a luxuriant growth of hair.

Hair specialists claim that the reason that there are so many baldheaded men is because they keep their heads covered most of the time and from the lack of air and sunlight. The hair is killed just as the grass would be killed if covered with a blanket.

I advise that you keep your hair clean by getting an expert shampoo every two weeks. A hot olive oil treatment should be applied at least once weekly, and you should massage your scalp thoroughly each day with your finger tips.

These treatments will eliminate the excessive dandruff and the hot oils and massage will restore the circulation. If you will follow these instructions to the letter and expose your hair to the sunlight whenever possible, your hair will take on new life in a very short time.

Miss Chicago—We seldom resort to [illegible] in this column but, I am quite sure that if you write to Alice Kelly, chemist of the Madam C. J. Walker Manufacturing Company, or to the Marchello chemist, they will immediately send you their formula for making cold cream. Can you beat it, and she lives in Chicago, too.

A Sure Thing

Marjorie—Oh, Mr. Aviator, would you take me for a little fly?

Aviator—Of course, not. You look much more like a little girl.—Exchange.

You can't tell how hard a man is working by the noise he makes.

Henry Lincoln Johnson, The Statesman

By NAHUM DANIEL BRASCHER
For The Associated Negro Press

Henry Lincoln Johnson has gone to his fathers. To his titles, add another: STATESMAN. The late Thomas B. Reed of the United States Congress, once gave this definition of a statesman: "A statesman is a successful politician who has died." Would you name another more entitled to this definition than Johnson?

Johnson was a super-politician; therefore he is entitled to be known as a super-statesman. He did all he did with the odds of prejudice, jealousy, enemies, and financial limitations against him. Had the South been fair in elections, he would have been no less than a United States Senator, which position he would have graced with culture and dignity far more fitting than many the great South has stolen into that body.

Johnson was loyal to his friends, and they were loyal to him. He had personal magnetism and friendly charm to such a degree that the masses who knew him best, not only loved him, but well nigh worshipped him. This was eminently true in his native state of Georgia. There his followers backed him up at every turn; there they sought him followed him about with such abounding faith [illegible] more than their leader—he was their Hero.

Henry Lincoln Johnson was always equal to the occasion. He was resourceful, talented, tactful, and cunning. He knew the weaknesses of whites, and the possibilities of his own people. I have seen him in the presence of the best white minds of America; and I have seen him not only their equal, but their master. He could be as gentle as a lamb, or he could roar like a lion, as necessity demanded. He could be as eloquent as Demosthenes, or he could be as blunt as Ben Tillman.

Johnson was a man of unusual culture and learning. A graduate of Atlanta University and the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, he was always a student. He was a lawyer of renown, and won many famous cases, civil and crimal, but his great passion was politics.

He might have died very wealthy, had he been miserly or commercial. But he was neither. He has made fortunes in fees, only to quietly expend them in bringing relief to his less fortunate friends.

One of the most beautiful lessons of his career was his love and devotion for his family, Mrs. Georgia Douglass Johnson, his wife, a woman of refinement and letters; his two sons, Lincoln Jr., and Peter, were the inspiration of his life. He loved to prepare a meal with his own hands, for his friends in his home. The Glow in his eyes was touching, when he pulled from his pocket a letter from the boys away at school, and read it with poetic tenderness.

Johnson was at his best in the presence of his friends. "I don't like to be alone," he told me frankly on one occasion. He had a memory for details, of events, locations, and of people, that was truly marvelous. He knew every foot of ground in Georgia, and all the white and colored people who made up the the population for generations back. Name a family from Georgia, and he would do the rest in family connections, geography and achievements. As "good company" on a long journey, walking, automobile or train, or in the club or hotel, or a chance meeting on the street, there was none to surpass him. He was witty, philosophical and broad of vision. He was ever abreast of current events, and could quote from the classics with indifferent ease.

Henry Lincoln Johnson was a great Republican in a period when republicanism has tried men's souls. He has been a definite factor in making and unmaking Presidents.

J. Finley Wilson, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, could well devote much of his time in establishing a permanent monument to the memory of this statesman. It was the sagacious and persistent leadership of Johnson, aided by Special Assistant Attorney General Perry W. Howard, that made Wilson Exalted Ruler for the first time in Newark, N. J.; it was in Richmond, Va., last month, that the same leadership returned Wilson to office for the fourth time. This last struggle, in his physical condition as many of us knew him of recent years, was too much for the old warrior. And yet he was game, as always. The heart strings snapped. We have produced another statesman.

The School Bell Rings—

These September morns are witnessing the annual event of the opening of school. More Negro children, middlers, grown-ups and elderly folks will cross some class room door sill during the 24-hour day of the 1925-1926 school period than ever before. [illegible] the way from the little school house on the hill to the great universities of the world. Just yesterday a Negro physician, whom we interviewed, had abandoned his practice in South Carolina and was en route to the University of Edinburgh where he will study intricate surgery for several years. His place in South Carolina will be rapidly filled by some youthful graduates of Howard, Meharry, or some outstanding northern university. And as John P. Davis, the Bates College orator, returns from his European triumph as a debater, dozens of other youths with latent talent will begin the slow course of preparation for the battle of brains a decade hence, which will doubtless unfold even a greater proportion of Negro scholars fit for world recognition.

What should the intraracial transition from ignorance to knowledge mean to the world at large and to the Negro group entity? To the former it should mean that this dark tenth content will not, cannot permanently be denied a man's place in Art, Science, History, Music and Religion, as well as in the trades and industries. A President of the United States once said of a down-trodden group: "These people have by force and ability pushed their heads and shoulders through the tough top crust, and I will not be a party to any movement to keep them down or make their way more difficult. Let them rise!"

To the Negro, the past decade's demonstrations of educational efficiency mean confidence, self-reliance, independence and the ultimate emancipation from bigotry. They mean a greater sympathy for the weaknesses of the contra-group, and a stronger determination to help that group purge itself of the alloy of race hatred. The school bell is ringing for the ambitious Negro all the way from the humble trade school to the operating room where a Caesarian section is being performed. And while this harbinger of knowledge is silent for the Negro at West Point and Annapolis, the other schools are grinding out graduates who are swelling the mighty ranks whose numbers are pledged to the pleasurable duty of throwing off ballast and making Negro education, yea, Negro life, universally acknowledged, respected and acclaimed as one of the chief cornerstones of the builders of American democracy and civilization.

Negroes and Strikes—

Strikes seldom do anyone much good, and where Negroes are involved, that group usually suffers the greatest hardships of the vexatious turmoil between Capital and Labor. This latter truth is due to the fact that Negro labor has only its head under the tent of organized labor, and is consequently buised both from within and from without. When the Western Kentucky coal strike was declared, more than a year ago, Negro union miners, although in a mixed local, were the first to meet with difficulties and the last to emerge therefrom. When colored girls were smilingly employed during the war by Chicago manufacturers, they were harshly dismissed the very instant white girls were available.

Chester, Pa. and East St. Louis, Ill. are still fresh in the minds of Negroes who remember the spectacle of their labor group at those points during the terrible controversies between Capital and Labor. Future organization, so far as the Negro is concerned, cannot as it has been in the past, be half-hearted. Either it must be of the one hundred per cent type or not at all, leaving the Negro free to bargain away his swarthy muscles and active brain under his own direction. Either the Negro must be given full protection, in and out of strike periods, or he must be left alone, free to work when and where he wishes and subject to strike only when he himself so decides.

The anthracite coal fields now under strike have been a closed corporation to Negro labor, while the bituminous field has been open to him upon fairly good terms. The South Carbon field of West Virginia was one of the most prosperous, healthful fields in the country, and the same can be said as to the Western Kentucky fields, filled with happy Negro miners up until the time they were ordered to strike. As between Capital and Labor, the Negro has ever been a rubber ball, being batted from one group to the other, as might suit convenience. With potential strength in numbers and proportion, Negro labor could happily deal with either Capital or Labor, or with both, were it to him a one hundred per cent square deal attitude.

Heretofore, however, strikes as directed by others, have been disastrous to Negro labor, whether an actor therein or a breaker thereof. And past experiences are clear enough, we think, to convince the Negro working group that until others evince an honest-to-goodness interest in his work welfare, it is up to him to grant, bargain and sell his productive worth upon a plan which will safeguard his work welfare, both in opportunities for profitable employment and in the peaceful participation therein, void of riots, starvation, and other disasters with which his work history so pathetically abounds.

Camp Meetin' Over—

"The weary ploughman homeward wends his way;
Leaving the world to darkness and to me."

(From: Gray's Elegy)

Now that the Elks, the Eagles, the Masons and the Knights have wended their way homeward, where they may face, at least, a temporary shortage of bread, butter and coal, which were prematurely exchanged for excursion tickets, gasoline and circular Goodyear rubber, the fraternal brethren may well, in the few months which precede the homecoming of Mr. Winter and his hearty children, Snow, Ice and Cold, take inventory of their stock and see what's what and why.

In the first place, bought brotherhood is somewhat like asbestos, which gets red hot in a minute and cools just as quickly. The social hour, when a brother would swim the English channel for his brother yields over night to the cold undeniable necessity of helping out with the rent or taking care of the insurance collector. The huzzahs of Camp Meetin' [illegible] which are barren of the fine fellowship so previously prevalent.

In other words, we are slightly inclined to be pessimistic over the expended gusto, pomp and energy, to say nothing of the dollars and dimes, all of which might have been diverted to a great human brotherhood, or to Education, Industry, or Science. The humble writer thinks—and he is both a "Nod Fellow" and a "Nelk"—that fraternal gatherings should first promulgate some great constructive project having as its aim racial endeavor and welfare, rather than a magnetic social session, following which there are naught but embers of what might have been.

The Elks announce the establishment of a bureau of Education to foster and promote educational facilities of the race. This project, if consummated, will bloom into concrete results of far-reaching worth. Similar efforts along the lines of business, race fellowship, land development, and the like, we think, would do much to fade the darkness which enshrouds a struggling race. Fraternalism, it seems to us, means more than the lodge room grasp and the mystic symbols of secret cohesion. Out in the open world it means the furtherance of those things upon which the development of a nation depends. Nor are its objectives confined to the burial of the dead and the care of the sick. They strike down into every element of Christian advancement, supplemented by the necessities of a happy life and a contented populace for those without as well as those within.

Kweer Kapers—

With Klansmen as pallbearers, says the white press, the funeral of Samuel Obrey, a West Virginia Negro miner, was recently conducted at Roderfield, near Welch. The report continues by saying that as the coffin was placed in a hearse to be taken to the cemetery, a Ku Klux Klan meeting, held in rooms over the undertaking establishment, was dismissed. Noting the absence of mourners, several klansmen boarded the hearse, while others fell in behind and marched to the cemetery, where they lifted the coffin from the hearse and lowered it into the ground. Each klansman stood in silence while the funeral rites were concluded.

Just prior to this epochal event a Klan preacher, during its Washington D. C. festival, had advocated a Jim Crow car law for the District of Columbia, and a few days later, to the writer's personal knowledge, distaste for local Negroes had been manifested in the vicinity of a local Klan meeting. All of which points the fingers of curiosity at the multifarious acts of an organization which is so outspoken in its ideals. What pray, is the motive of the Klan when it tenders a purse to a Negro church or designates pallbearers for attendance at a Negro funeral? Is it the attitude of throwing a dog a bone, or is it to try to veneer the true aims of this modern knighthood organization?

In case of the latter, the announcements of the Klan literature too plainly bespeaks their estimate of a large proportion of our American constituency; and if it is the former, church purses and sympathies for the dead might more consistently be tendered to those whose idealistic alliances are more in harmony with the Klan than are those of their colored brethren.

Altogether, the queer capers of the Klan indicate that realizing its axis if supporting naught but a lost world, it is swimming hither and thither searching for straws by which its crown might be preserved a few months longer; for it was long ago evident that the modern world has no permanent place for such a curious anomaly, and that the last two-thirds of its titulat—"Here yesterday, here today, here tomorrow," may soon be wiped out. And when the time for those obsequies arrives, we'll gladly furnish some of the pallbearers, leaving a similar honor to the Jews, Catholics and aliens.

Move! But Where? How?—

"If, merely because of prejudice, a Negro tenant can be made to move out of a city block, upon that same theory he can be made to move out of that city, out of that state, out of that country, leaving naught but debris of that time-honored principle that a man's home is his castle. Visionary though it may seem, this is just exactly what could eventually happen to everyone one of us who, like Samuel A. Browne, of Staten Island, N. Y., or Harry T. Pratt of Baltimore, Md., as well as countless others, might seek to establish homes in accordance with the individual tastes and desires of a man's own choice. This type of prejudice, just like the bootlegging game, laughs at both law and all the ethics of intelligent society. Even as we go to press word comes from Detroit of another race riot, "caused" says the United (white) Press, "by the moving of a Negro family into a white neighborhood." Concurrently, Browne received another notice to "move out" from Castleton Hill, where he sought, with his family, to enjoy the net returns of his honest toil in the public service. But should Browne move, who can say but that he, and you and I might in years hence be asked to quit the only soil we've ever known, in order to appease the sacredness of the white man's world, as prescribed by the bigots and the "bourgeois" of America.

This home problem of the Negro, who seeks to select his own homesite, is the "Gettysburg" of the race's social endeavor; and like the Gettysburg of Abraham Lincoln's time goes to the heart of the American question of whether a nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal can long endure. The Negro of America has lived and endured too long here amid America's joys and sorrows from Gettysburg to Flanders Field to now be pushed and kicked out of the block, out of the city, out of the state and out of the country. There must be a stopping-off place, somewhere; and it might as well be in the block. Otherwise, the Pacific or the Atlantic oceans seem to be the safety zone of our ultimate destination. Hence, it appears to be our move not to move and this goes for Staten Island, Baltimore, Detroit and any other localities whose guardians are too holy to observe the simple sacredness of a [illegible] as a tribute to intelligence and the lessons of civilization. Let us exhaust our resources to uphold Lincoln's Gettysburg philosophies, lest some, instead of all, of the people prescribe the rules of Government and the boundary lines of homes.

Henry Lincoln Johnson—

The inimitable Henry Lincoln Johnson, Republican National Committeeman from Georgia, and gladiator, for decade after decade, in the arena of national, racial and interracial politics, has answered his Master's call and left this sordid world for the peace that knows no ending. "Linc" as he was popularly known, by both friend and foe, was a political character, the mould of whose counterpart has been lost amid these years of political strife. A gifted orator, a keen logician, an analyzer of men, and a man of uncanny foresight, Colonel Johnson was one of the most picturesque figures Negro political and professional life has ever had. As a champion of the cause of the meek and lowly, either in or out of court, the deceased Georgian had but few equals; and as a consoler of the troubled, "Linc" was loved the country over by those whom he had so often shown the silver lining of their clouds.

No one can forget the sturdy battles Colonel Johnson fought innumerable times; nor are the impregnable defenses which he placed in the pathways of his opponents easily possible of imitation by any one who may seek to don his mantle. His parries with Senate Committees and with other inquisitors from the country's brightest minds will long be remembered by both his admirers and his critics.

The Colonel died with his boots on, following one of his characteristically strenuous campaigns in behalf of his friends, and the chair which once held his massive frame is draped in mourning for its departed host whom none is worthy to succeed, at this time, so far as we can scan. He goes from a life of useful service, unselfishly given, to the reward of an unknown world, which, sooner or later, we all must enter.

The valiant Georgian lived his life for his friends, his Race and his Party. Strong, determined, fearless, always cheerful and never too weary to put his shoulders to the wheel which turned Right and Justice onward, Henry Lincoln Johnson will linger long in the memories of those who knew him and who were thoughtful enough to appreciate the fact that his useful career was one of complete sacrifice. That his soul may rest in peace is our ardent prayer; and that the boots he left behind may some distant day be filled by some other equally valiant and vigorous patriot, who, like the Colonel, will press forward seeking our second emancipation from the age of racial misrepresentation, is our sincere hope.

Hotel Life in America—

"Without trying to rival Sir William Blackstone in his definition of public inns and the duties which innkeepers owe to their guests, we would modestly state, and with all kindliness and sympathy toward the struggling hotel keepers of our own blood, that a public hostelry obviously solicits business; and in accepting trade holds itself forth to tender at least ordinary care of its guests, together with bag and baggage. In recounting our experiences at race hotels such as the Olga, New York; Roadside, Philadelphia; Smith's Baltimore; Vincenes, Chicago; Dumas, New York; Majestic, [illegible] Whitelaw, Washington; Millers', Richmond; Walnut, Louisville; Litchferd, Columbus; Travelers', Bluefield, W. Va.; Royal Glovers, Washington; DuPont, Detroit; and not a few additional hostelries, we recall many pleasant hours spent away from Home Sweet Home, which were laden with smiles and filled with the attitude of efficient service.

However, we suppose it takes a little rain with the sunshine, and with equal vividness we recall a few happy moments of disservice and the feeling that a great favor was being done by permitting us to deposit our weary bones on a hotel cot, to say nothing of prohibitive ice water and other luxuries in the way of comforts which most hotel keepers provide, at least upon the promise of a healthy tip. We realize, of course, that the hotel is a semi-new event in the life of the colored traveling man, who, heretofore, was looking to be able to secure lodging in Sister Smith's or Brother Jim's folding bed. Yet, if the time has come—and they say it has—when a globe-trotter can wire ahead for reservations at the Black Ritz Carlton or the Little Hotel Statler, then let him go forward comforted and consoled by the knowledge that service and smiles rather than the "I-am-doing-you-a-favor" attitude shall adorn the countenance of the innkeeper, who realizes that he is catering to public business, seeking its dollars and dimes, and presuming to give in exchange therefor ordinary care and courtesy, both of which usually have a smile for a prelude. Thus, hotelkeepers, like their brother business men, must realize that the patron list is growing in knowledge of their needs, and in catering to the same must become imbued with the wholesome spirit of hospitality, minus some of the austerity which now besets their ranks.

"Oh, I see by the 'paypurs' that Honest Dean Kelly Miller is about to assume the role of 'Publicity' man for the Howard Propaganda Committee. Well, at least, Kelly's had the experience.
